LBJ, Out Of Race, Silent On Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson eased his six-foot-three frame into a maroon chair and said: "I guess the turning point was probably last November."

For some time Johnson had been tossing around in his mind—and talking over with close friends and associates who could keep his secret—the possibility of renouncing the run for another presidential term.

He had even come close to making the stunning announcement that finally came Sunday night when he delivered his State of the Union message to Congress last Jan. 17.

What fixes November in Johnson's mind as the turning point was a visit from the U.S. military commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

"His visit didn't bring it about," Johnson explained at a news conference hurriedly arranged just before midnight in the yellow oval room of the White House living quarters.

"His visit coincided with when I turned the corner."

Johnson voiced his emotion-packed pronouncement in a television-radio address to the nation Sunday night. Then he met with newsmen in the White House living quarters and sought to dispel any suspicion that he might change his mind or succumb to a draft.

To do this, he used the phrase "completely irrevocable."

Left unanswered was the question of whether Johnson might try to influence the choice of his successor as Democratic standard-bearer. But his words, taken at face value, suggested a hands-off attitude.

Also up in the air were the plans of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who might join Sens. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota in the 1968 Democratic sweepstakes.

Johnson's announcement was his most stunning move in a 37-year career in politics. No president eligible to succeed himself has spurned a fight for the office since Harry S. Truman bowed out during the controversial Korean War 16 years ago.

Johnson attributed his decision—which aides said was a year in the making—to controversies rending the nation at this time, including the Vietnam war.

"There is division in the American house now," he said in solemn tones. "There is divisiveness among us all tonight."

Then, after appealing to all Americans "to guard against divisiveness and all its ugly consequences," he came to the key passages:

"... I have concluded that I should not permit the presidency to become involved in the partisan divisions that are developing in this political year."

"With America's sons in the fields far away, with America's future under challenge right here at home, with our hopes and the world's hopes for peace in the balance every day, I do not believe that I should devote an hour or a day of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any duties other than the awesome duties of this office—the Presidency of your country."

"Accordingly, I shall not seek, and I will not accept, the nomination of my party for another term as your President."

Johnson tacked the disclosure of his very personal decision onto a major Vietnam policy speech in which he announced his broadest yet peace move: An immediate and indefinite halt in most air and sea bombardment of North Vietnam as "the first step to de-escalate the conflict."

When the President met with newsmen just before midnight, the questions came quickly:

Was Kennedy's entry into the Democratic primary campaign a factor?

"It added to the general situation I talked about that existed in the country."

Did he have a personal choice for the Democratic presidential nomination?

"I made that clear in the speech,"—an apparent allusion to his statement that he had no time for partisan causes.

Would he support any Democratic ticket nominated at the party's August convention?

"When the time comes I'll make my announcements."

Would his decision strengthen his hand in efforts to end the Vietnam war?

"I would hope what I did tonight will let me concentrate more effectively on bringing about peace in the world."

Besides announcing a partial halt in bombing of North Vietnam, Johnson revealed these other steps related to the war:

troop level there of 525,000 men will be lifted to about 550,000. By August a total of 13,500 support troops will be sent to the combat zone. Some of these will come from Reserve units called to active duty.

—War spending is exceeding expectations. Tentative estimates now put the additional amount for the 24 months that began last July 1 at $5.1 billion—money Johnson will have to seek from Congress.

—Priority will be given to re-equipping the growing South Vietnamese army with more modern weapons.

—Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman will be the President's personal representative at any peace talks that develop with North Vietnam—"at

Bobby Wants Talk With LBJ Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said today he has asked President Johnson for a meeting soon in the light of the chief executive's withdrawal from the presidential race.

In his first comment since Sunday night's announcement by Johnson, Kennedy said he had praised the President for "subordinating self to country."

Kennedy told a crowded news conference that "I fervently hope," Johnson's new move for peace in Vietnam will succeed.

The mathematics of politics ordinarily would assure Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., the uncringing challenger of the President's expected bid for a second elective term, top place among the contenders for the vacated prize.

But in the emotional year of 1968, the men, the money and the myth of Camelot are all on Kennedy's side.

McCarthy will get a satisfying boost by winning Wisconsin's presidential primary Tuesday after the President's default. But once the balloting is over, some Wisconsin leaders of the Johnson and McCarthy organizations may swing quickly to Kennedy.

The Minnesota senator is spending all that comes in on winning primaries while Kennedy's unlimited financial resources are pointed at the selection of delegates at state conventions, where the nomination demonstrably is won or lost.

McCarthy and Kennedy will face their first showdown at the ballot box on May 7 in Indiana, where the voters are reputed to be considerably more conservative than either.

Both McCarthy and Kennedy have focused their campaign attacks on Johnson's Vietnam policies. Johnson's announcement that he is "substantially reducing" the current level of hostilities on a unilateral basis is exactly what both have called for.

They and other doves who have opposed the President's policies vigorously in the Senate could only applaud the President's decision to eliminate 90 per cent of the air attacks on North Vietnam.

U.S. Peace Bid Answer Is Awaited

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has ordered a halt in U.S. bombing of most of North Vietnam in a sudden new bid to de-escalate the war in Southeast Asia and get peace talks started in the immediate future.

"I call upon President Ho Chi Minh," Johnson said in announcing his action Sunday night, "to respond positively, and favorably, to this new step toward peace."

He did not say how long the limited cessation of attacks would continue if Ho does not respond favorably. He did say the bomb halt, covering "almost 90 per cent" of North Vietnam's population, could be made complete if Ho would now demonstrate "restraint."

The President called on Britain and the Soviet Union "to do all they can to move... toward genuine peace in Southeast Asia." Officials said those two governments—co-chairmen of the Geneva Conferences—could play key roles in arranging talks. They were notified shortly in advance of Johnson's announcement, and the South Vietnamese government was consulted, officials indicated.

But these informants said no advance assurance of responsive action was obtained from North Vietnam, which presumably was notified by the Soviets.

The move apparently involved some concession in the earlier U.S. position that for bombing to be stopped Hanoi would have to indicate a willingness to de-escalate by leveling off its infiltration of men and supplies into South Vietnam.

However, to accept the President's proposal Hanoi would also have to make some concession in its position. Its condition for entering peace talks has been that the United States must stop all bombing of the North unconditionally and definitively.

Johnson made clear that air strikes would continue against enemy forces building up in the North (Please Turn To Page 2)

Springfield Man Held In Slaying

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Police were holding today a former in-law of Richard L. Edwards, 23, who was shot and killed Sunday night in the crowded lobby of the Wittenberg University student union.

Detectives said no charges had been filed against Edward Kidd, 24. Both men were from Springfield, but police said neither was a student at the school.

Police said Kidd reportedly was visiting a girl friend at the university and became involved in an argument with Edwards in a snack bar before moving into the student lobby.

One shot was fired and no others in the lobby were injured.

Late Bulletins

TOKYO (AP) — A source in Peking close to the North Vietnamese was quoted by the newspaper Ashai today as predicting Hanoi will reject or ignore President Johnson's latest overture for peace talks.

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson said today he hopes to meet soon in the United States with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam to "strengthen and improve our plans" for restoring peace and stability in Southeast Asia.

Vietnamese Officials Silent On Johnson De-Escalation

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese officials, taken by surprise, kept silent today about President Johnson's bombing curtailment and his exit from the presidential race while GIs expressed joy, dismay, disbelief and even disinterest.

American military leaders and the South Vietnamese government have openly opposed any letup in the bombing of North Vietnam, but they refused to comment on any part of Johnson's speech.

GI comments on the bombing cutback ranged from "they'll bury all of us" to "This means we'll go home sooner."

One said, "I don't care who is President so long as I get home."

A senior officer on Gen. William C. Westmoreland's staff, who refused to let his name be used, said few American soldiers cared whether Johnson ran for re-election or not.

Westmoreland, who is to be relieved in July as commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, told a questioner: "Yes, I have a comment. It's no comment." Last year he said the bombing of North Vietnam was "essential and vital to our military strategy."

The top allied commanders in Vietnam apparently were notified Sunday of the President's bombing curtailment order, but both this and his political announcement came as a complete surprise to other military men and South Vietnamese officials listening to Johnson's

80,000 Local Governments Are Affected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today put local government under its one-man, one-vote rule.

The historic 5-3 decision extends the rule to an estimated 80,000 units of local government throughout the land.

One of the dissenters, John M. Harlan, said the decision was "both unjustifiable and ill-advised."

Justice Byron R. White gave the decision in a case from Midland County, Tex., where Mayor Hank Avery of Midland City asked that the county governing body be apportioned on a population basis.

The landmark finding came in these words by White: "We hold that petitioner (Avery) as a resident of Midland County has a right to a vote for the Commissioners Court of substantial equal weight to the vote of every other resident."

The ruling extends a step taken by the court four years ago in interpreting the mandate of the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

It is that in elections for Congress and for state legislatures districts must be drawn so that the vote of citizens is substantially equal in weight.

"The question now before us," said White, "is whether the 14th Amendment likewise forbids the election of local government officials from districts of disparate population."

60,000 Men To Be Called Up For Duty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense officials disclosed today the administration is planning a three-phase callup of military reserve forces which would involve the mobilization of around 60,000 men in coming months.

Within the next three days the Defense Department will order up at least a few thousand troops to help meet the increase of about 13,500 for the Vietnam war, just authorized by President Johnson.

A second phase of reserve callup is expected later to replace a Marine unit which was dispatched to the war zone recently as an emergency measure following the Communists' Tet holiday offensive.

Defense officials said the replacement of the Marines would involve an unspecified number of Army reservists but gave no exact figure. As an example, however, they mentioned 7,000 to 8,000 men.

Then in coming weeks and months, officials said, the administration envisions an additional callup of reserve troops to replenish the nation's strategic reserve force, an active duty manpower pool which is maintained in the United States to meet unforeseen emergencies abroad.

Officials said this third stage callup will involve a number not expected to exceed 50,000 men. These would not go to Vietnam.

GOP Scramble Possible Again?

NEW YORK (AP) — A top-ranking aide to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York said Sunday night, "The governor has no immediate comment" on President Johnson's announcement that he will not seek re-election in November.

He stressed the word "immediate."

The source would not go so far as to say that Rockefeller may be reassessing the position he stated on March 21 when he said, "I have decided to reiterate unequivocally that I am not a candidate... for the presidency of the United States."

GOP leaders expressed the opinion that, as one put it, "The favorite sons all over the country will be rethinking their positions now."

These favorite sons included Govs. Ronald Reagan of California, James Rhodes of Ohio, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, and possibly Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois.

"Nobody knows yet who we're going to be battling in November," a Republican professional said. "I don't think it will be (Vice President Hubert) Humphrey. Bobby (Kennedy) would eat him for breakfast."

Richard M. Nixon is the acknowledged front-runner for the Republican nomination.

He said Sunday, "Don't downgrade Vice President Humphrey." But Nixon said he wanted to "study the text of the President's remarks before I comment on them."

Rockefeller, potentially, is a strong challenger to Nixon for the nomination. He has demonstrated in New York state—where the Republicans are the minority party, as they are nationally—that he can pull votes from Democrats and independents. He is serving his third term as governor.

On the basis of the New Hampshire primary, Nixon's aides said he, too, had drawn heavily from these same groups. His office issued an analysis of that election making two significant points. It said:

1. "A record number of independent voters chose the Republican ballot and cast their vote for Richard Nixon."

2. "Mr. Nixon received four times as many Democratic write-in votes as Bobby Kennedy."

Military Men Want More Bombing, Not Slowdown

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Air Force pilots expressed surprise and disapproval today of President Johnson's decision to halt the bombing of most of North Vietnam.

"If he means what I think he means, I'm violently ill," said a lieutenant colonel who has flown 50 missions over the North. "Instead of restricting the strikes, we should be hitting the targets that are off limits now."

Johnson ordered a halt to bombing raids over most of North Vietnam, but said U.S. warplanes will continue to strike in the southern panhandle just north of the demilitarized zone.

Most of the sorties flown by Air Force and Marine pilots out of Da Nang and Chu Lai, 50 miles to the south, have been in the panhandle area. Air Force planes from Thailand and carrier-based Navy planes mount most of the missions farther north, including those around Hanoi and Haiphong.

The lieutenant colonel said that although he did not agree with any bombing limitations, "This won't make a great deal of difference. We're not hitting the targets we should be anyway. But if they put all our planes along the DMZ corridor, we'll be so stacked up we'll turn the sky black. There just isn't enough room there for all of the planes we can muster."

An Air Force major said the President "may be trying to coax the Communists to the bargaining table, but this is the wrong way. We've got to keep the pressure on them. As long as there is no reciprocal move by North Vietnam, this is foolish."

The President's action exempts almost 90 per cent of North Vietnam's 17 million people and most of its territory—including Hanoi, the port of Haiphong and the rice-producing regions of food-short North Vietnam.

Military sources said they believe the bombing and shelling will be compressed into a section south of Dong Hoi, a major point on the supply lines, about 35 miles above the DMZ.

This section, they said, includes the Mu Gia pass, through which many of North Vietnam's trucks drive with their loads of war supplies and munitions for North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers in South Vietnam.

One member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff told a reporter privately within the past 10 days that he feels strongly the United States should broaden and intensify the air war against the North.

In view of the Communist winter offensive, this high-ranking officer said the United States should lift restrictions on (Please Turn To Page 2)

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Jessie Holcomb
Mrs. Jessie Holcomb, 91, died in her home in Tampa, Fla., Saturday. She had been ill about a year.

Mrs. Holcomb, a native of Lewis County, Ky., formerly lived in Washington C.H. and Londonderry, Ross County.

She was the widow of Albert G. Holcomb, who died in 1952.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Hill, of New Boston, Mrs. Helen Taylor, of Brandon, Fla., and Mrs. Mary Pollock, of Tampa, with whom she had her home; three sons, Luther, of Orlando, Fla., Leonard, of Urbana, and Robert, of Tiffin; 16 grandchildren; and two brothers, Robert Brooks, of South Portsmouth, Ky., and Paul Brooks, of Quincy, Ky.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Ware Funeral Home, Chillicothe, and burial will be in the Londonderry Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

Mrs. Corwin Denney
Friends here received word Monday afternoon that the wife of Corwin Denney, of San Antonio, Tex., a former resident of Washington C. H., was killed in a traffic accident near San Antonio Sunday evening.

Denney's brother, Duane Denney, of Rodondo Beach, Calif., gave no details of the accident or plans for services when he called.

Mrs. Cora O. Berner
SABINA — Mrs. Cora Opal Berner, 64, died at 6 a.m. Monday in her home, 481 Florence Ave., here.

A native of New Carlisle, she had been a resident of Sabina 27 years. Her husband, Chester A. Berner, died in 1965.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Isabell Bliss, Chillicothe, Mrs. Eleanor Davis, Sabina, and Mrs. Joan Tillis, Rt. 1, Sabina; three sons, Willis, of Sabina, Franklin, of Wilmington, and Gary, of the armed forces in Germany; eight grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Ina Ellis, Springfield, and a brother, Everett Stapleton, Tipp City.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, with burial in Sabina Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 4 until 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Jesse Cox
GREENFIELD — Services for Mrs. Myrtle Cox, 65, a former Greenfield resident, were held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Murray Funeral Home here, with Dr. Paul Jones, Hillsboro, officiating.

Mrs. Cox, the wife of Jesse Cox, 5625 Pemberton Ave., Norwood, died Friday afternoon in Jewish Hospital, Cincinnati. She was a native of Peebles.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Charles, of Norwood, and Ronald, of Cincinnati; three daughters, Mrs. Glenn Hammond and Mrs. Robert Sands, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Irene Barney, Dayton; five grandchildren; a brother, Byron Hilliard, Cincinnati, and two sisters, Mrs. Laura Marshall, Greenfield, and Mrs. Louisa Pendleton, Peebles.

Burial was in Greenfield Cemetery.

Mrs. Ethel M. Bryan
JAMESTOWN — Mrs. Ethel McCollough Bryan, 81, of Jamestown, died at 1:15 p.m. Sunday in the Hollingsworth Nursing Home where she had been a patient three weeks.

She was born near Bowersville and spent most of her life in this community. She had lived in Jamestown since the death of her husband, Harley Bryan, in 1963.

She was a member of the Church of Christ and is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lavin Mowery, 615 Belle Air Place, Washington C. H.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Powers Funeral Home here. Burial will be in Jamestown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

MRS. FLORENCE GLASS
Services for Mrs. Florence M. Glass, 78, of Sabina, were held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Littleton Funeral Home here, with the Rev. Richard Branson, of the Church of Christ, officiating.

Mrs. Glass, the widow of Charles G. Glass, died Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter Stackhouse was at the organ. Pallbearers for the burial in Sabina Cemetery were Dr. R. C. Smith, Harold and Dwight Sparks, Warren Stauffer, Charles Moore and Robert E. Wilson.

MISS LUTHERA JEFFERIS
Services for Miss Lutheria Jeffers, 78, of Wilmington, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, with the Rev. Larry Barker, of the Friends Church, officiating. Miss Jeffers, a retired registered nurse, died Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter Stackhouse was at the organ. Pallbearers for the burial in Sugar Grove Cemetery, Wilmington, were Daniel and David Covel, Mark Jeffers, Robert DeVoe, Mark Mitchell and Steve Rust.

MRS. EDITH THOMPSON
Services for Mrs. Edith M. Thompson, 73, of New Antonio, were held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, with the Rev. F. H. Smith, New Vienna, officiating.

Mrs. Thompson, the widow of Rufus Thompson, died Thursday.

Pallbearers for the burial in New Antonio Cemetery were Charles Jr. Thompson, Earl Clifton, Robert Truman, Clayton Sexton, Harold Stewart, and James Young. Mrs. Walter Stackhouse was at the organ.

bombing the Haiphong harbor on docks, across which flow much of the Soviet-supplied arms, petroleum products and food.

"I'm for hitting anything that supports the enemy's war effort in the South," he said. He did not rule out striking the dike system to ruin North Vietnam's rice crop.

Other senior officers, contacted after the President's limited-bombing order, made it plain they oppose it.

Recalling that all the JCS members won't record last summer as strongly supporting the bombing, one officer said: "I don't know of any military men who have changed their minds."

Some uniformed professionals recalled that, during a four-day Lunar New Year bombing pause last year, American reconnaissance planes spotted trucks and barges flocking southward with an estimated 25,000 tons of war gear—many times the normal movement.

They said they fear the same thing will happen now, contending that the supply flow must be interdicted all along the supply route, not just at the bottom of the funnel.

Johnson's order comes at a time when skies are clearing over the North after the months-long monsoon, creating weather conditions for more intensive bombing.

Only a few hours before Johnson's speech to the nation, retired Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, a top presidential adviser, declared himself against a bombing pause.

"I have always opposed that... because I think in the long run it would not be remunerative unless there are clear indications which are not apparent now," said the former JCS chairman and U.S. ambassador to Saigon.

Taylor said, "I would be always afraid of backing away from an issue such as the bombing because I think it would convey the impression of weakness and uncertainty here at home."

When Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford was before the Senate Armed Services Committee for confirmation in late January, he said "I do not" favor cessation of bombing of North Vietnam.

"Up until now, I have felt that it would be damaging to our cause," Clifford said at that time. But he indicated the time might come when conditions might change.

ate size. As has almost every court which has addressed itself to this question, we hold that it does."

Again, White wrote: "It is now beyond question that a state's political subdivisions must comply with the 14th Amendment. The actions of local government are the actions of the state."

"A city, town, or county may no more deny the equal protection of the laws than it may abridge freedom of speech, establish an official religion, arrest without probable cause or deny due process of the law."

The majority with White comprised Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan Jr.

The dissenters were Associate Justices Harlan, Potter Stewart and Abe Fortas. Justice Thurgood Marshall did not participate in the case.

Cooler Air Moves In To Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The first day of April brought cold air and rain, ending a week-long summer-like warm that covered much of the eastern half of the nation.

Showers dotted areas from the Lower Mississippi Valley to southern New England, dumping up to two-thirds of an inch in some areas.

Earlier Sunday, Indianapolis, Ind., and Louisville, Ky., received more than an inch of rain.

A mass of cold air, moving eastward on the heels of the shower activity, brought near-freezing but clear conditions across much of the Midwest.

The cold front was expected to chill New England states, which continued to enjoy unseasonably mild temperatures.

Except over the Midwest, generally cloudy skies prevailed.

Many Ohio Cities Face Remapping

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Municipal League said today that the U.S. Supreme Court's extension of the one-man-one-vote rule to local government is likely to affect almost 200 Ohio cities.

The League said 198 Ohio cities have combinations of ward representatives and councilmen-at-large. At-large representation in combination with the ward system appeared doomed by the high court decision.

John Coleman, head of the League, said cities with combinations would likely have to eliminate at-large posts and exercise more care in redrawing ward boundaries after each census, as required by state law.

Coleman said the Supreme Court ruling appeared to pose no immediate threat to present electoral setups for county commissioners and councilmen of most of Ohio's 733 villages who elected on an at-large basis.

Of Ohio's major cities, Coleman said, only Cleveland had a city council based entirely on the ward system.

Cancel Bid Openings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Director P. E. Masheter today canceled a bid opening set for Tuesday and accused federal highway officials of renegeing on an agreement in which roadbuilding contractors would assure nondiscrimination in hiring practices.

The bid opening would be for repaving 1.4 miles of Summit County Highway 121.

"It is not my intention at present to take bids on any of the projects in the Cleveland Operational Plan area which are scheduled to be let to contract this year," Masheter said. He said this covers highway work valued at $125 million.

Masheter said the state signed an agreement last Dec. 14 with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads requiring contractors to submit manning tables at a pre-construction conference.

"Now Department of Transportation officials have come up with a new regulation requiring a contractor to spell out in advance the numbers of employees he will hire from minority groups before he can be awarded a roadbuilding contract," he added.

Southern area of North Vietnam against Khe Sanh and other U.S. and allied positions in the northern border region of South Vietnam.

But he said these strikes also "could come to an early end" if North Vietnam would impose "restraint" on its operations.

The question was whether Ho—if he is interested in negotiations at all—would expect to get better peace terms from a new administration than from the outgoing President.

Johnson based his partial bombing halt and his peace bid on the so-called San Antonio formula, which he announced in a speech at San Antonio, Texas, last September. Previously he had sent it to Ho through diplomatic channels in August.

He said that he would stop the bombing of North Vietnam if serious peace talks would begin promptly, and he would assume that Hanoi would not take advantage of our restraint "to improve its military position."

North Vietnamese spokesmen denounced the formula and declared they would not promise military de-escalation. They did say about three months ago, however, that if the United States would unconditionally halt all attacks on North Vietnam, talks would begin shortly afterward and all relevant questions could be discussed.

President Issues Plea For Reason

CHICAGO (AP)—In his first public appearance since bowing out of 1968 politics, President Johnson voiced a plea today that reason and responsibility prevail "amid all the frenzy and emotion" of an election year.

Johnson flew to Chicago with little advance notice to address the annual convention of the National Association Broadcasters.

In his prepared text Johnson said this season is a time of debate and enlightenment, and "at its worst it is a period of frenzy."

The chief executive warned that "the basic hope of a democracy is that somehow — amid all the frenzy and the emotion — reason will prevail."

He called on his audience to exercise a great sense of responsibility during the campaign season — to be fair, impartial and honest.

"This is true," he said, "for broadcasters as well as for presidents — and seekers after the presidency."

B'Burg Lions Expect To Clear $1,200 On Sale

BLOOMINGBURG — The Bloomingburg Lions Club expects to clear about $1,200 on the consignment auction sale it held Saturday at the Town Hall here.

Although it is too soon for an accurate report, the sales have netted the club between $1,000 and $1,500 year after year for its sight-saving and community betterment projects.

The sale started at 11 a.m. and continued without letup for the next four hours.

Just about anything went under the hammer of the three auctioneers — Jess, Dan and Max Schlichter.

Nearly 20 refrigerators and stoves were among the wide assortment of items consigned. Some merchandise was new and some used. Several Washington C. H. merchants donated new clothing and other articles.

There was a sizeable crowd at the sale from start to finish, and the bidding was brisk most of the time.

More than 100 pounds of fish were sold at the concession stand during the sale.

Hospital Treats Accident Victims

David Depugh, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary L. Depugh, Rt. 1, Bloomingburg, received a broken left elbow when he fell from a pony at the home of his grandparents Saturday.

Zona Brill, 53, Rt. 1, Jeffersonville, injured her foot when she dropped a drawer on it at her home. She was released after treatment.

These were the only accident victims reported treated over the weekend in the emergency room at Memorial Hospital.

David was admitted and his condition was reported as good Monday.

speech on the U.S. Armed Forces Radio.

President Nguyen Van Thieu, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Premier Nguyen Van Loc all declined to comment. There was a flurry of activity at Independence Palace as Thieu met with his chief advisers.

The Gl's' responses to Johnson's withdrawal from the presidential race generally depended on political leanings. But some took the position of an Air Force pilot who said: "I don't believe anyone coming in cold will have the experience or knowledge of events or that a new man stepping into office will be as well prepared as Johnson is at this time."

A young Vietnamese lieutenant, however, said he felt a new man in the White House would help to end the war.

"Our people are tired of war," he said. "Everybody wants the war to end."

Geneva or any other suitable place."

Johnson also appealed anew for higher taxes and budget cuts to pare a deficit he said would otherwise be about $20 billion. He said these actions are vital because we face the sharpest financial threat in the post war era—a threat to the American dollar's role as the keystone of international trade and finance . . .

The chief executive's disclosure that he will not seek reelection was coupled with a series of appeals for national unity.

He said: "The ultimate strength of our country and our cause will lie not in powerful weapons or infinite resources or boundless wealth but will lie in the unity of our people."

"This I believe very deeply."

Temperatures will average near normal Tuesday through Saturday with highs averaging in the 50s and lows in the 30s. Warmer around midweek, along with showers averaging one half of an inch to one inch, followed by cooler temperatures latter part of week.

Sen. Fulbright Said Surprised By LBJ Pullout

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said he didn't think anyone was "more surprised or taken aback than I was by the announcement" that President Johnson would not be a candidate for re-election.

Fulbright was on the speaker's platform at Park Synagogue in suburban Cleveland when the President's announcement was piped in over the loud-speaker system.

Johnson's statement brought applause and cheers from the audience of 1,700.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and a critic of the administration's handling of the war, said Johnson's statement "lends credence to the belief that he is seeking peace."

Reserve Group Takes Command

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 83rd U.S. Army Reserve Command (ARCOM) has assumed the responsibilities previously held by the 20th U.S. Army Corps.

The outfit assumed control today of the reserve unit in the western two-thirds of Ohio and all of Kentucky. It now controls about 144 Army reserve units composed of more than 11,000 men.

"Heretofore, we've always had an active Army running the reserves — now it's reserves running the reserves," ARCOM's commanding officer, Maj. Gen. Robert Tyler said.

Historical Society Meet Set April 19

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Historical Society will open its 83rd annual meeting here April 19 with a banquet "fit for presidents," featuring favorite recipes of the wives of U.S. presidents.

Included will be fish chowder from the recipe of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, fillet de boeuf a la jardiniere from a recipe of Julia Grant augmented by Lucia Hayes' special horseradish sauce and Helen Taft's artichoke salad. Silent motion pictures of President Warren C. Harding's career will be shown.

American Women Freed By Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Two American women captured by the Viet Cong during the lunar new year offensive in Hue have been freed and now are in U.S. hands, an American spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the two are Sandra Johnson and Dr. Marjorie Nelson. He said they were released in the Hue area and now are under medical examination there.

Radio Hanoi said Sunday the Viet Cong had decided to release the two women.

Stock Market Skyrockets

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market surged ahead early today on the highest first-hour trading volume in the history of the New York Stock Exchange.

The market's rally followed President Johnson's de-escalation of the Vietnam war and announcement that he will not seek re-election.

At 11:30 a.m., the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials had spurted 17.17 points to 857.81.

Volume in the first hour soared to 6.06 million shares, exceeding the previous record of 5.19 million shares on March 10, 1967, the New York Stock Exchange said.

The exchange ticker tape fell 13 minutes behind in reporting the flood of floor transactions. Many large blocks of shares crossed the tape.

Advances of individual stocks topped declines by a margin of about 11 to 1 on the New York Exchange.

Opening lead—three of hearts.

Contract bridge was only in its infancy when the famous Lenz-Culbertson match of 1931. It is not surprising that the most widely publicized bridge match in history revealed many bidding flaws that have largely been overcome with the passage of years.

However, the card play during the match has withstood the test of time. Mistakes were made, of course, but they are still being made today—even by our best players. By and large, the play of the cards has improved only slightly since 1931.

The accompanying hand reveals a structural weakness in the bidding methods used by Lenz and Jacoby. The two diamond bids indicated values above a minimum opening but was not forcing. Lenz was afraid to bid three diamonds over two no-trump because that was not forcing either. He therefore raised Jacoby to three no-trump, thus bypassing whatever chance there was of reaching the superior contract of five diamonds.

Peculiarly enough, Jacoby made three no-trump, even though he got a heart lead. At first blush, it seems incredible that the Culbertsons could fail to cash five heart tricks.

But the thinking of experts is sometimes so profound that the simplest situations trip them up, and that is what happened in this deal.

Mrs. Culbertson won the heart lead with the ace and made the conventional return of the six, her original fourth best heart. Jacoby played the jack and ... it won the trick!

After he had recovered from his astonishment, Jacoby easily scored the game. Culbertson had ducked because he thought East's heart holding was A-8-4, which meant that Jacoby had Q-J-9-8. He hoped Mrs. Culbertson had the king of diamonds and would later get in to lead another heart and trap South's (presumed) Q-9. His hopes did not materialize.

There would have been no problem at all had East returned the queen of hearts instead of the six.

Round About The County--People, Places, And Things

By B. E. KELLEY

"What has become of the old home coffee grinders?"

Today all coffee, or nearly all of it, is ground and ready for use when received, but when coffee was selling at 10 and 12 cents a pound, in paper bags, it was ground on a hand-operated grinder in the home, and all coffee-drinking families had one of these grinders or mills.

Pepper also used to come in the full grain, and it usually was ground in the coffee mills. Sometimes shelled corn was then ground in the mills to remove the sharp peppery taste which was sure to show up in the next coffee.

For many years antique dealers have been offering hand-operated coffee mills at fancy prices, some types of course, being more rare and attractive (if a coffee mill could be called attractive), bringing highest prices.

The standard type of coffee mill for many years was a square box with a small drawer in one side to catch the ground coffee. The metal grinder, of a very simple type, was in the top with a thumb screw to adjust for fine or coarse.

Usually it required only a few minutes to grind the family's supply of coffee for a day or a week, but unless it was then kept in a tight container, it gradually lost its strength or flavor.

The old mills, relics of the past, are used by many for ornamental purposes, such as forming bases or holders for lamps.

As the years went by various types of coffee grinders or mills were produced, one favorite being arranged to attach to a door casing or wall. Still others had glass containers.

I have seen at least a half dozen types of the grinders. The old coffee grinders went out with the family churn, and a half dozen other articles which formerly were necessary to meet conditions at the time and help make life a little easier.

Prior to home coffee grinders, the green coffee berries were roasted, placed in muslin bags, and "ground" by being hammered until the berries were reduced to meal or powder.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The Germans launched another heavy offensive in the British sector and were repelled with tremendous losses.

In other sections the British and French made gains, and American forces in large numbers were being rushed up to meet the next German onslaught. Lloyd George of England, said they would give the Germans "the surprise of their lives."

The first German drive had fallen flat with hundreds of thousands of casualties, and 77 more enemy divisions were awaiting arrival of big guns to pave the way for their next push.

Deaths: Justice of the Peace William Sylvester, 74; Mrs. Oscar Moore, wife of Patrolman Moore, died in Wilmington; J. C. Martin, head of the J. C. Martin Piano Co., died in Dayton. His brother, D. W. Martin had a piano store here.

Farmers were rushing 25,000 bushels of wheat to market on appeal of the government. The price was $2.07 a bushel.

As church bells and whistles sounded throughout the nation, launching the Third Liberty Loan Bond drive, local officials announced Fayette County's $550,000 allocation had been underwritten by the banks of the county so people could purchase bonds through the banks. Fayette was the first county in the nation to announce that its allotment had been fully subscribed at the start of the selling campaign.

Daylight Saving Time started here with a minimum of confusion, and was generally accepted by the public.

The severe winter had killed many colonies of honey bees.

A big hailstorm swept the city and part of the county, doing extensive damage to glass.

Hailstones up to 1½ inches in diameter fell here, and banked up a half foot deep in many places. During the storm lightning struck the residence of County Prosecutor H. M. Rankin and burned out the generator at the Washington Gas and Electric Co. plant.

Writing to a friend here Maj. Rell G. Allen, at the battlefield in France, stated "They shall not pass! Don't lose any sleep over the outcome of the war."

Mrs. Ed Allerdiss was the woman fishing champion, having landed a bass weighing four pounds, two ounces in a Fayette County stream.

Valdo R. McCoy, struck by a boy racing on a bicycle, was knocked to the street and was unconscious for 45 minutes. He sustained a serious concussion of the brain and many cuts and bruises.

Tied up by a freight wreck at Roxabel, main line B&O trains were detoured through Washington C. H. for 15 hours.

The Jeffersonville Red Cross auction netted a large sum for the Red Cross. A U. S. flag bearing inscription "Maj. Rell G. Allen, somewhere in France" was purchased by the Masonic Lodge of Jeffersonville for $1,500.

"The Continent" a widely circulated publication, scored Billy Sunday, evangelist, for indicating he had authored a book which had been written by Hugh C. Weir, formerly of Washington C. H.

William T. Matheny, 81, of Rarden, and Emma Hughes, 23, Greenfield, were married in Hillsboro.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:

In view of the increasing interest in keeping our air pure, it seems to me that certain facts should be kept in mind.

During the past several months we have seen great improvement in the exhausts of locomotives and trucks in that they no longer discharge clouds of smoke. That means simply that all the carbon in the fuel is being consumed.

Gases and oils used as fuels are compounds composed of hydrogen and carbon. When such fuels burn with complete combustion, the two products are carbon dioxide and water. If the combustion is partly incomplete, one product may be carbon monoxide. If it is still more faulty, unconsumed carbon is discharged making black smoke.

Both carbon dioxide and monoxide are colorless, odorless and tasteless. The carbon dioxide is important to animal life because it forms an unstable compound with the red corpuscles of the blood from which it is displaced by oxygen in the lungs and is expelled with exhaled breath. In fact, a small amount of carbon dioxide in the lungs acts as a stimulant in breathing which is why we may breathe without giving it any thought.

Carbon dioxide is non-poisonous, but one might drown in it because of the absence of oxygen. On the other hand, carbon monoxide is poisonous because if inhaled it forms permanent compounds with the red corpuscles thus cutting off the animal's source of oxygen.

Every animal and every fire of perfect combustion discharges clouds of carbon dioxide into the air.

Why are we not presently drowned in it? Simply because every green growing plant breathes in the carbon dioxide, decomposes it using the carbon to build its skeleton and discharges pure oxygen into the air again.

Now since we are building larger and larger cities, more and more super-highways and thus cutting off more and more areas of green growth I am wondering just where we are headed.

We are cutting down city shade trees, and where we have them we are covering up so much of the earth with concrete that we are robbing city trees of any chance for ground water. So perhaps it is a good thing that jungles grow so fast.

I have had two personal experiences with carbon monoxide and also with air lacking in oxygen. When I was about 12 years of age I went to the one-room country school where I was a student one cold morning and hastened close to a large red hot cast iron heating stove to warm.

A group of larger children gathered around me, and presently I experienced a great feeling of depression. Every thing seemed wrong, so I broke from the group and presently began to feel normal.

When I became a chemistry teacher, I realized I had breathed some carbon monoxide which can pass easily through red hot cast iron.

A few years ago with a daughter I visited the Washington Monument. A large crowd of Boy Scouts had gathered there waiting their turn at the elevator. Being short of time, we decided to climb the stairs.

By the time we were half way up I realized that while I could rest and take deep breaths, the air did me little good. Then I realized that the large crowd at the entrance was using huge quantities of oxygen and the openings at the top were small.

When we arrived there we rushed eagerly to one of the windows and gulped the fresh air. We descended in the elevator.

The Nation Today

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The "gag rule" which the House of Representatives often invokes on the consideration of legislation is regularly denounced by opponents as an unconscionable handicap to congressional discussion and action.

But the Senate, which has no such rule, has just spent a week demonstrating that there may be a lot to be said for the procedure.

The device, known more formally as a closed rule, amounts to this: The House Rules Committee—with the approval of a majority of the membership at large—can decide that the House vote on a measure be deferred until after any opportunity to offer amendments on the floor.

The Senate received from the House a simple bill to postpone reductions in the excise taxes on automobiles and telephone service and speed up corporate tax collections.

It is part—the lesser part—of President Johnson's program to raise some $12 billion extra revenue to reduce the big budget deficits now impending. The major, and far more controversial part, is an income tax increase which neither chamber has approved.

The Senate, true to its tradition of unlimited debate and amendment, went to work with a will on the House-passed measure. By the time it wearily quit for the weekend Friday it had debated 23 amendments—almost none of which related directly to the basic bill—and adopted 11. Still to be taken up were an undetermined number, including one block-buster—an effort to graft onto the bill an income-tax increase accompanied by a whopping cut in spending.

Meanwhile time ran out on the excise tax extension. As of today, by existing law, the rate on automobiles drops five percentage points and on telephone service, seven.

If the controversy does not drag on too long, the practical effect may not be too severe—automobile manufacturers and telephone companies were reported planning to continue paying the taxes, since the basic extension bill is not in dispute and would be retroactive to April 1 when passed.

Even so, legal questions may arise, especially if, for example, many telephone bills go out to customers while the issue is still at least technically unsettled.

The House invariably brings up tax bills under closed rules and with debate time limits set in advance, averting the possibility of such tieups.

The argument against the closed rule is obvious: A House majority controlling the Rules Committee could jam prefabricated legislation through.

It could present a conscientious member with an unhappy choice—voting for a bill whose general purpose he approves but which contains some elements he considers unwise, or voting against it and probably killing for a session any chance of dealing with a pressing problem.

Arguments for the closed rule are, first, that writing legislation on the floor is bad business. The committees of Congress are supposed to give expert consideration to legislation, weigh alternatives, take testimony and bring to the floor the version they think best on balance.

All their work could be disrupted by a member's offering of an irresponsible, but politically attractive amendment. The closed rule also can protect a member against pressure from some special interest in his district, an especially important consideration in tax legislation.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is ill.

Guide To Good Health

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

ARE KIDNEY stones a disease of modern times? Is it caused by diets and a hectic way of living?

Case reports of kidney stones were found in the earliest medical writings as far back as 5,000 years before the birth of Christ. I am certain that stones existed before then, even without confirmed reports by archaeologists.

Modern techniques of diagnosis are so much better today that kidney stones are found more frequently. I am certain that Greek physicians would deny that modern medicine is any better today than it was thousands of years ago.

A kidney stone is made up of many chemicals—especially phosphates and uric acid. It may start off as a very tiny collection of crystals in the kidney itself or in the tube (ureter) which carries urine from the kidney to the urinary bladder.

Stones seem to grow like a snowball, gradually becoming larger as salts of these chemicals are deposited. When the stones become large enough to obstruct the normal flow of urine they cause pressure and severe pain that radiates from the back down into the groin.

Faulty metabolism or breakdown of goods is undoubtedly one of the prime causes of kidney stones. In people who have gout, the uric acid content of the blood becomes high and sometimes is responsible for the formation of a uric acid kidney stone.

A tiny hormone-producing gland is the parathyroid. It lies in the thyroid gland and, when it is not acting well, may be responsible for the deposit of kidney stones. Infections in the bladder and in the kidneys are also responsible causes.

Kidney stone colic is a very painful condition that cries for immediate help, demands it and gives it. The stresses of modern living are not nearly as important as diet infection and immobility as the cause of kidney stones.

Why do teenagers begin to smoke even when parents and school authorities show them the Board of Health statistics of its dangers?

It has been repeatedly shown that youngsters begin to smoke because of social and psychological needs. Almost always their own insecurity makes it necessary for them to conform to the behavior of their young adolescent friends. It makes them feel that they are part of the crowd and they are not "chickens."

Smoking cigarettes to them is a false sign of maturity and adulthood. The show of status symbol is short-lived. Soon many of them are sorry that they began to smoke. Unable to stop, they work hard at enlisting other youngsters to become contaminated.

I am certain that many

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Valenti Answers Dity Film Critic

DEAR ABBY: A while back someone wrote to me complaining because motion pictures were getting dirtier and dirtier. And you replied, "Now that Mr. Jack Valenti is president of the Motion Picture Association, we can all sleep a little better."

I don't know about you, Abby, but I haven't been sleeping any better since Mr. Valenti took over. Could Mr. Valenti be the one who is sleeping? So far I haven't noticed any improvement. If anything, I think movies are dirtier than ever. Why doesn't your Mr. Valenti do something?

I don't expect to see this in print. You'll probably toss it into the wastebasket, but I had to write anyway. Sincerely,

"SOLD OUT" DEAR SOLD OUT: I didn't toss your letter into the wastebasket. Instead I tossed it into an envelope and sent it to Mr. Valenti. His reply:

"DEAR SOLD OUT: I wish I had all the power you credit me with. If I did, I would change things a mite. When it comes to passing judgment on a film, even the experts can't agree on what is 'dirty.' What the motion picture code attempts to do in this democratic society—where there is NO censorship—is to inform the public honestly about the content of the film, then let parents make the judgments. That is the only democratic way. The alternative is despotism, where a small group decides for all."

If parents cannot control and guide their children, are we to deliver that responsibility to the state? And remember, Sold Out, the state is people. "and thus a handful of mortals will be gathering unto themselves one enormous amount of power." Then who would watch the watchers? And who would guard the guardians? Sincerely, Jack Valenti."

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is in a home for unwed mothers now. She has decided to give her baby up for adoption. I won't go into the reasons for her decision, but I think she's doing the right thing. She's only 15. She doesn't even want to see the baby. She says it will be easier to forget if she doesn't. Abby, even tho it would be

Beware Of Dog With Mumps

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It's a bad idea to let your pet pooch stray near neighborhood kids who have the mumps. Dogs can catch this disease from children.

Footballers are called pigskins, but actually they are made of cowhide. Originally, in this country, they were made of rubberized canvas. In Shakespeare's time games were played with inflated pig bladders, and before that English athletes enjoyed a sport in which they kicked human skulls around a field. The skulls generally belonged to extinct Danes.

Vacationing is now a year-round thing for Americans. Of the people who spend a week away from home annually, one out of four now makes the trip between November and March, and 58 per cent of those who go abroad do so between October and June.

Napoleon Bonaparte enjoyed the sweet smell of success. He liked cologne so much he sometimes used 50 or more bottles a month. Incidentally, if you have an average nose, you should be able to smell 2,000 different scents. A trained nose can distinguish between twice that number of odors.

At what age do children grow the fastest? For boys, between 12 to 15 years; for girls, between 11 and 14 years.

Quotable notables: "To find a career to which you are adapted by nature, and then to work hard at it, is about as near to a formula for success and happiness as the world provides." — Mark Sullivan.

I swear: Can you imagine the money the federal government could collect if it made profane ty illegal and penalized it with heavy fines? Well, it has been tried. Such a law, called the "Profane Oaths Act," was passed in England in 1745. Violators were fined according to their station in life.

Feeling blue? Well, that's becoming one of the most commonplace mental woes of Western culture, perhaps an unavoidable price we pay for our complex civilization. Dr. Nathan S. Kline of New York's Rockland State Hospital says the diagnoses of neurotic depression have leaped tenfold in the last 25 years.

Maybe you suffer from nightmares, too. In the Middle Ages they were believed to be caused by nocturnal devils pressing down on a sleeping person's chest. The word nightmare comes from an old Teutonic term meaning "night devil."

It was Mark Twain who observed, "The man who is a pessimist before 48 knows too much; the man who is an optimist after 48 knows too little."

Tomorrow's Citizens

JOHN PERO

By MARILYN JUNK

Reading, drawing, and painting, tennis, softball, cooking, and collecting stamps are listed among the interests of Connie Pratt. She is the 17-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Pratt, Rt. 1, Washington C.H.

Connie belongs to the News Service and the Art Club. She attends the Sabina Christian Union Church and is a member of the Evangelistic Christian Youth.

American government and art are her favorite subjects. After graduation, Connie would like to study data processing or attend a nursing school. She commented, "I have enjoyed my many experiences at Trace, and

CONNIE PRATT

I'm looking forward to whatever the future holds."

JOHN PERO, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pero, Rt. 2, Washington C. H., is also featured this week.

John is co-captain of the track team. He plays guitar in the Juba-Tracers, a folksinging trio and sings solos. He is especially interested in flamenco guitar music. John also enjoys riding motorcycles, swimming and going to dances.

He is a member of the Science Club and Senior Choir. John belongs to St. Colman's Catholic Church. Last year he won the Peace Essay Contest sponsored by the Lion's Club. John plans to join the Marines after he graduates.

Giant Parade Included In Capital Visit

By DEBBIE MILLER

Miami Trace marching band members are polishing up their instruments and dusting off their binoculars for Washington, D. C. After many months of hard work by the band boosters, parents, Mr. Febo, Mr. Pummell and members, the band is ready for departure for Washington, D. C. Thursday.

Mr. Febo (director), Mr. Pummell (assistant marching band director), band members and chaperones will board the buses at 6:30 p.m. at Miami Trace and will depart at 7 p.m. They will ride the buses all night and will get into the capital about 2 a.m.

They will then board sight-seeing buses for a nine-hour tour of Washington, D. C. and Mount Vernon. After the tour, they will ride their own chartered buses to the Virginian Hotel in Alexandria, Va., which is seven miles from Washington D. C., where they will stay for the night. The next morning they will ride back to Washington, D. C. and have an hour's briefing concerning the parade.

The Parade of Princesses will begin at 11 a. m. and will be nationally televised. The parade is only a mile in distance to be marched although it may be noted that the Miami Trace Band is the 246th unit in the second division.

Therefore, don't be surprised if the smell of cherry blossoms is in the air at Miami Trace.

MT Student Council Reviews Schedule

The agenda for the March Barger is in charge of the 20 meeting of the Miami Trace Student Council was a heavy one.

Under old business, the Council carried on a general discussion about the annual clothing drive and finally decided that because of the nature of the project, it should be held only every other year.

Jeff Tarbutton reported that the league pennants have arrived, but since two of them have defects, they will be ordered. Mike Maust stated that although knives were put out for students' use for awhile, they are no longer issued. Finally Mr. VandeVoorde reported that the Kiwanis Club has decided to have the talent show on April 23. More details will be given next week.

The Council discussed the "data dance," which is to be co-sponsored by the MT - WHS Student Councils on April 20. Krista Wagner, appointed ticket chairman, will sell the computer forms the fifth period during the week of March 25. Greg board in front of the school, many Council members suggested that the student Council be put in control of the board. The Council would be responsible for changing the events and would also determine what should be posted David Browning volunteered to check with Mr. Foster on the possibility of placing lights all around the board.

Finally, the Council reviewed the advantages of sending delegates to the Student Council Conference at Marietta on April 25 - 27. Two representatives will be sent; those nominated were Mike Maust, Greg Barger, Carol Wallace, Debbie Beekman and Jo Ellen Rowe.

Library Has Special Shelf Of Books For 'Green Thumbs'

Is gardening on your mind? The Carnegie Public Library is ready to help.

Many books on the subject — covering flowers, bulbs, shrubs and vegetables as well as landscaping — have been set aside in a special display for the convenience of "green thumb" patrons.

The special list of gardening books includes: "Photo Album of Garden Plants," "Garden Full of Flowers," "Garden Guide," "American Home Garden Book and Plant Encyclopedia," "House and Garden's Gardener's Day Book," "Miracle Gardening Encyclopedia," "Herb and Garden Ideas";

"The Golden Book of Gardening," "The Wonderful World of Bulbs," "The Complete Guide to Successful Gardening," "Flowering Trees," Shrubs and Vines for American Gardens," "The Concise Encyclopedia of Home Gardening," "Flowering Shrubs," "The Book of Planters," "Roses Living."

— Growing for Exhibiting; "Encyclopedia of Roses in Natural Color," "The Rose Question and Answer Book," "The Miniature Rose Book," "The Rockwell's Complete Book of Roses," "Young America's Garden Book," "New York Times Garden Book"; "Growing for Showing," "A Picture Dictionary for the Home Gardener," "McCall's Garden Book," "Garden Open Today," "Gardening the Easy Way," "Are You Your Garden's Worst Pest?," "The Good Gardener's Encyclopedia";

"How To Have a Green Thumb without An Aching Back," "Outdoor Gardening in Pots and Boxes," "Gardener's Book of Plant Names," "10,000 Garden Questions Answered," "Gardens," "Gardening and Cooking on Terrace and Patio," "Landscape Planning, Better Homes and Gardens," "Ladies' Favorite 'Flowering Shrubs'," "Landscaping and Outdoor

Many Contributors To Awards Program

By RICHARD OWENS

One vital link in the chain of FFA activities is the incentive awards program. These awards are designed to encourage members to participate in the educational activities at the local, district and state levels. The primary sponsor of this awards program in Ohio is the Ohio FFA Foundation.

The Ohio FFA Foundation affects approximately 1,000 Ohio Future Farmers each year at a cost of $10,000. It is supported entirely from donations from interested individuals and groups within the state. Most of the money received by the foundation comes from contributing members, each donating from $10 to $100.

The Miami Trace FFA covered Fayette County during the past few weeks to solicit for the foundation. Twenty members from the chapter participated in the drive.

FRIENDS OF THE FFA within Fayette County contributed almost $850 this year. The following 69 individuals or firms were a part of this year's effort:

Paul Shepard, Junior Bowling League, Bowland, Mrs. Roy Baughn, Andrews and Baughn, The Milvin Stone Co., Burke Monument, Craig's Department Store, McDonald and Son Elevator, Marathon Oil Co., Monsanto, Patton Electric;

Downtown Drug Co., Inc., Kaufman's Bargain Store, Yeoman Radio and Television Cudahy (Tickets Lawrence Moss), Agrico, Sugar Creek Stone Quarry, Sheridan Insurance, Basic Construction Materials, Nature's Liquid Fertilizer, Sollars Bros, Gruel-O-Matic, Record-Herald, Wilson's Hardware;

Cheerleader Tryouts Set

By CHRIS McNEW

Would you like to be a Miami Trace cheerleader? Cheerleaders are seen at basketball and football games as well as at pep rallies. They serve to encourage good sportsmanship and to create strong school spirit.

Practices for the tryouts were to be held Monday through Wednesday this week. The tryouts will be next Monday. Six varsity, five reserves and five freshmen will be selected.

The cheerleaders will be judged by representative groups on cheerleading ability, personal character and poise. They will be required to have a 2.0 grade average and to maintain this average throughout the season.

The first college music chair in the United States was established at Harvard University.

Guess Who?

Ge, I might get to like those photographers!

Even though this week's "Guess Who" picture looks exceptionally young, anyone who has met this '68 class member will recognize the adorable face. Only one more thing will be said about him and that is that at times he raises lots of "cain."

'Donkey-Back' Basketball Again A Success

By RICHARD OWENS

Area basketball fans numbering approximately 400 were treated to an exciting display of shooting skill and horsemanship March 19 in the Bloomingburg gym. This exhibition, the Miami Trace FFA Donkey Basketball Game, was in reality two contests, one between students and faculty, the other pitting seniors against juniors.

The faculty team featured the services of Mr. McCarty, Mr. Bernard, Mr. Shearer, Mr. Febo, Mr. Diley and Mr. Eberwine. The student team consisting of Greg Miller, Roger Donohoe, Danny Hoppes, John Wood, Jim Hager and LaMar DeMent proved no match for the more experienced teachers. Although this team did lose to the faculty 14-2, it salvaged its pride by clobbering the juniors 16-4 in he second game.

An activity at half-time, a dollar-bill race, provided girls an opportunity to participate. The rules for this contest were simple. The referee placed a dollar bill in the middle of the gym floor. Each girl rode a donkey to this area and attempted to pick up the dollar bill while seated on the donkey.

Annual Scholastic Tests Conducted

By NANCY CAMPBELL

The preliminary District-State Tests of Scholastic Achievement were given to the students at Miami Trace on March 20, with the cafeteria and W-209 study hall used as testing centers. Mrs. Dowler arranged a schedule for each student to follow. Those interested were allowed to take a maximum of three tests.

The scores have been sent to the state. The state will send to the school the percentiles of the scores. After receiving these, students placing high will be chosen to go to Ohio State University to take the final tests. Names will be announced next week.

Fayette Neighborhood GSA Reschedules "Thinking Day"

Mrs. Lawrence Lehman was hostess to members of the Fayette Neighborhood Girl Scout Association this week and Mrs. Howard Schiller was acting chairman.

Mrs. Alva Rinehart, chairman of the Juliette Lowe "Thinking Day" program, formerly planned for March 23 and cancelled due to inclement weather, announced it has been rescheduled for May 4 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the Mahan Community Building. Families of all Girl Scouts are invited. Troop leaders were reminded to participate in some part of the program, whether it be songs or a skit, and to remember the troop displays. Each troop is also asked to bring 10 dozen cookies.

Representing various troops were Mrs. Alva Rinehart, Brownie Troop 1090; Mrs. William E. Williams, Cadet Troop 747; Mrs. Schiller, Junior Troop 392; Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Junior Troop 267; Mrs. Lehman, Brownie Troop 7; Mrs. Charles Swaney, Brownie Troop 1075; and Mrs. Frelan Van Meter, Junior Troop 1190.

Mrs. Charles Brackett, of Circleville, district chairman, and Mrs. Kenneth Adams, of the Seal of Ohio Council, Columbus, and District Adviser, were present.

Mrs. Schiller went over Notes to the Neighborhood, and announced some changes in the Spring Training Calendar. The Delegate Council meeting is scheduled for April 22 in the 4-H and Grange buildings at the Fairground in Circleville. This was formerly scheduled for the Episcopal Church in Circleville.

A "This Is The Way" test was distributed to members present, and much was learned by going over the quiz.

Mrs. Adams announced that Gallia County will be added to this region, which will be known as Region 2 instead of Region 4.

Day Camp registrations are to be brought to the Farm Bureau auditorium from 10 a.m.

Miss Briggs Hostess To WCTU Meet

Miss Mabel Briggs was hostess Friday afternoon to 16 members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and one guest, Mrs. Florence Bethards. The theme for the devotions was the Easter story, "The Man Who Carried the Cross," which was presented by Mrs. Paul Brodt.

Mrs. John Case, president, conducted the business session. "Drugs" was the topic for the program given by Mrs. Homer Garringer. A reading, "Wake Up America," was given by Mrs. Edith Scott.

Members enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. Case, Mrs. Office Stookey, Mrs. Carson Maddux, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. John G. Jordan, Mrs. Paris Custer, Mrs. Ralph Hays, Mrs. Zella Reveal, Mrs. B. E. Kelley, Mrs. Minnie Smith, Mrs. Brodt, Mrs. T. N. Willis, Mrs. D. B. Nelson, Mrs. Florence Inskip and the hostess.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. Custer and Miss Marion Christopher, who was unable to be present.

Dennis Avey Appears In Recital

Dennis Avey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Avey, of near Jeffersonville, appeared in a senior recital of ten students of piano teachers in the southwest district of Ohio Music Teacher's Association.

The program was presented in the music room at Taft Museum, Cincinnati. Mr. Avey played one of his own compositions. Mr. and Mrs. Avey and Mrs. Robert E. Willis accompanied him to Cincinnati.

Organ Club Recital Planned For Sunday

The Washington Organ Club recital will be held Sunday at 4 p.m. in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. Organ and vocal selections will be presented by organists from Greenfield and Washington C. H. for the Lenten program.

Mrs. John P. Case is program chairman and Dr. Dwight Ireland is president of the Washington Organ Club.

WHS Cafeteria

Bluebirds, Camp Fire Potlatches

Bluebirds and Camp Fire Girls held two potlatches recently to celebrate their birthdays. Approximately 250 girls and parents attended the Bluebird potlatch at Mahan Hall. The Miami Trace Folksingers entertained and a sing-along was led by Mrs. Walter Seifried and Mrs. Rollo Marchant.

A capacity crowd of 400 attended the Camp Fire potlatch in Mahan Hall. In keeping with this year's theme, "Star in the Creative Arts," the Camp Fire Girls entertained their parents. Each group had a skit or song.

Guests for the potlatches included board members, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lucas and daughter, Gail, Mr. and Mrs. John T. F. Jordan and daughters, Linda, Joanie and Jennifer and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence DaRif and daughter, Susan, and son, Jeff.

Edward Fisher, president of the Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls, presided at the business session of the two potlatches.

Mrs. Rollo Marchant, program chairman, was general chairman for both parties.

Film Viewed By Garden Club Members

The Town and Country Garden Club met recently at Anderson's Restaurant. Hostesses were Mrs. Dan Cowdrey and Mrs. John Frost.

Mrs. Charles Duff, president, opened the meeting with a reading, "Let's Take a Stand on Arbor Day." Members answered roll call by naming their favorite tree.

Mrs. Paul Pease, a representative from Agrico, showed a film, "How Does Your Garden Grow?" which was on lawn and garden care. A question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Lee Cleland gave a report on the Columbus Flower Show. While there she also attended a rose demonstration, which suggested applying glue to the cut stem of a rose when pruning. This seals the cut stem from insects and fungi.

An invitation was read from the Posy Garden Club in which members were invited to tour the Kingwood Center, Mansfield. The fee is $4.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Dale Thornton. Members are asked to bring artificial flowers and a container.

Ministers Quit In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Three cabinet ministers are reported to have submitted their resignations protesting violence in general elections Sunday in which three persons were killed and many injured.

Sources close to Interior Minister Soleiman Franjeh and Minister of State Henri Pharaon said both men submitted their resignations to President Charles Helou, charging official interference in the balloting.

Edouard Henein, minister of social affairs, also reportedly resigned.

Informed sources said Helou had the resignations "under review."

Bailey Named To OSU Scholastic Honorary

John E. Bailey III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey, 220 N. North St., is among 102 newly-elected members in Ohio State University's chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society.

Bailey, a senior, will be formally inducted in ceremonies on the campus May 6. For the third consecutive year, the number elected was the largest in the history of Ohio State's chapter.

'Joy Bell Ringer' Due Wednesday At Grace Church

Wilbur Fish, Columbus, known the country over as "The Joy Bell Ringer," will provide a special program of music at Grace Methodist Church Wednesday for the Lenten Family Night program.

Held each week during Lent the Wednesday night program begins with a family-style supper at 6:30 p.m. Each one attending is to bring his own table service and reservations for the dinner must be made ahead of time. The food is provided by the WSCS for a charge of $1 for adults (no charge for school age children).

Following the supper there will be a song service, after which Fish will give a concert using several unusual instruments.

This musical service will include selections on piccolo-cornbells, swiss hand bells, musical saw and theremin. The last is an electronic instrument that is played without touching it.

Another of his instruments is a set of 47 musical glasses, reputed to be the largest in the world. They are tuned with ordinary water and played by rubbing the finger tips around the tops.

Fish will also use a set of London cricket bells which are played by turning cranks which in turn operate hammers against bars.

City School Board Will Meet Tonight

Personnel matters and a number of miscellaneous items are on a brief agenda before the Washington C. H. Board of Education Monday night.

Superintendent Marshall D. Boggs will recommend contracts for two applicants for teaching posts during the 1968-69 term.

Decisions may be made on industrial arts equipment for the new Senior High School and on a baseball backstop at the new high school.

To Ask Extension Of Tax Deadline

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Between 300,000 and 400,000 individuals are expected to apply for extensions beyond the April 15 deadline for filing federal income tax returns. More than 50 per cent of them might be successful.

Extensions are granted "for any legitimate reason," according to the Internal Revenue Service. But don't get your hopes up. That word "legitimate" is interpreted narrowly.

An earthquake, such as occurred in Alaska four years ago, or floods, such as occur around filing time, are considered legitimate reasons. Serious illness or inability to obtain records may or may not be legitimate.

The majority of extensions are granted for acts of God, such as floods, although automatic 60-day extensions apply to citizens who are out of the country at filing time. In all extension cases interest must be paid.

Combat zone military and civilian personnel are in an entirely different category. They have six months in which to file after leaving the combat zone. And they pay no interest for their late filing. But this is a rare exception.

If you explain that your accountant is overloaded with work, which might be true around filing time, your chance of obtaining an extension is slim. If, however, your accountant is the only one in town and you can't find another, then you have a chance.

Accountants, in fact, are quite disturbed about being turned down on extension applications. The National Public Accountant, a journal, says this letter resulted in a rejection:

"Extension for filing is requested because of my illness with the flu during which I was confined to bed March 8-13, after which my two preschool children also had the flu. Our doctor was Dr. —."

"The same week my wife was ordered to bed by Dr. — of — hospital with a threatened miscarriage, which did occur on March 25. During the month my office assistant, who is my mother, developed high blood pressure and is now in — hospital seriously ill."

Not only was the request rejected, said the journal, but a request for reconsideration also was turned down.

The IRS people, often portrayed as coldly dedicated acolytes serving a monster electronic computer that ruthlessly orders people around, are anything but that. They maintain, in their defense, that they must uphold the law.

Sheldon Cohen, Internal Revenue commissioner, says extensions are allowed when:

"...the taxpayer has made timely and reasonable efforts to file his return on time but finds himself unable to do so because of circumstances beyond his control."

Extension requests must be made before the filing deadline of midnight April 15. The letter should be addressed to the district director. In return the applicant may receive a Form 2688, which requires detailed explanations.

If the request is granted, the individual generally has 60 days from April 15 in which to file. For every day of this time he uses, however, he must pay interest on the amount due at the rate of 6 per cent a year.

If the request is denied, the applicant is told to file his return by April 15. If that date already has passed, the applicant is given 10 days from the date of the rejection.

There's another side to the picture though. If the government can't get your refund back to you within 45 days it, too, must pay that same 6 per cent interest. Last year individuals received more than $33 million this way.

Youth Club Activities

GREEN THREADS

The Green Threads 4-H Club meeting was held at Belle Aire School, and was called to order by Janene Begin, president. Rhonda Underwood led the Pledge of Allegiance and Cindy Hidy led the 4-H Pledge. There were 18 members answering roll call with their birthday.

A safety report was given by Debbie Hidy and new project booklets were distributed to members.

Recreation was practicing their posture by walking with a book on their heads. Refreshments were served by Wanda Clickner and Lori Simison.

The bake sale sponsored by the club March 16 was successful.

Ellen Upp, Reporter

JOLLY JILLS

Health reports were stressed at the meeting of the Jolly Jills 4-H Club. Diane Gerber gave a health report titled, "Blue Ribbon Farm," and pointed out some of the important things for a safe and sanitary farm. "Foods and their Effect On You" was the name of the health report presented by Carolyn Nungesser, who stressed proper foods for making better persons.

Mariann Schwaigert was acknowledged as a new member and club photographer. Barbara Beal was elected safety leader, and Diane Fisher the Pledge leader.

All of the officers attended the Officers' and Advisers' meeting. Each told about the things they learned about the officer's duties. The club announced it has purchased some plastic fruit for the Fayette Progressive School.

The Constitution and Program committees are going to meet Tuesday in Bloomingburg School. The next meeting will be April 10 at 4 p.m. in the home of Sue Mossbarger.

Emily Beal, Reporter

A-GO-GO 4-H

The first meeting of the A-Go-Go 4-H Girls took place this week at Cherry Hill School. The name of the club was voted on by the girls and accepted.

Officers of the club are: President, Kim Henkle; vice president, Jeanne Whittridge; secretary, Angela Christian; treasurer, Linda Johnson, health and safety leaders, Lisa English and Lisa Lynch; news reporter, Kathleen Fenton; recreation leader, Nancy Eckle.

Other members are Ann Fenton, Debbie Kniley, Kim Martin, Lou Ann Pettitt, Lisa Roberts and Mary Yankee. Advisers are Mrs. Harold Fenton, Mrs. Richard Fenton and Mrs. William Martin.

Following the calling of the meeting to order Kathleen Fenton led the 4-H Pledge. There were 14 members who answered roll call. The various groups in homemaking, sewing and cooking divided and sewing assignments were given to bring a kit to next week's meeting.

Cooking assignments were made to make menus out of the cookies and cakes category and serve their families.

Nancy Eckle closed the meeting with recreation.

London Gold Market Opens; Price Goes Up Very Little

LONDON (AP) — London's gold market reopened today and with indications gold's monetary role may be diminishing, there was no major bonanza for speculators whose buying rush closed the market 17 days ago.

This weekend's agreement in Stockholm to create "paper gold"—a new form of international credits for world trade—dealt speculators their biggest blow in months.

In effect, the world's major non-Communist trading nations, excluding France, agreed to accept each other's paper promises to repay part of their trading debts without the security of gold. This could be the first step on a long road leading to the end of gold as money, meaning a decline in the demand for the metal and drop in its price.

The price in the London free market ranged in early trading from $37.50 to $38 an ounce, less than $3 above the price of $35 formerly guaranteed by the United States and six other nations.

In Paris gold prices dipped for the fourth straight trading session today, following the weekend monetary decisions.

The price was the equivalent of $38.08 an ounce, the lowest since March 20. Volume continued relatively high—$5,011,000.

To keep the price down in the face of a gold rush which indicated lack of confidence in paper money, the gold pool nations had to supply gold from their own stocks to meet the demand.

At a meeting in Washington March 17, they decided to continue to settle accounts among themselves by transferring gold at $35 an ounce. But they decided to leave the free market price to fluctuate with supply and demand.

When the London market closed March 15, markets in Paris, Zurich and elsewhere remained open. To the surprise of some authorities and the shock of some gold hoarders, the price of gold rose less than $10 and then fell back. Some had been gambling it would double under panic demand.

But transactions in these small markets were not an accurate gauge. Hence the interest in today's reopening.

4 Arrested In TV Thefts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Four more men have been arrested in the theft of $32,000 worth of television sets.

The FBI said agents nabbed the four, all from Youngstown, Ohio, as they were loading some of the stolen sets onto a truck Sunday.

More than 100 sets were recovered after the arrests at a warehouse in suburban Sharpsburg.

Charged with possession of goods stolen from interstate commerce were Henry Cobey Jr., 45; Benjamin T. Guerrieri, 45; John R. Malone, 43, and Berdine Grassie, 48.

The FBI said the sets and a truck carrying them were stolen March 23 from a parking lot in Darlington.

Arrested earlier on the same charge were Joseph Valpe, 37, of East McKeessport and James Farro, 35, of Wilkins Township.

Memphis Faces New Tension From Funeral

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Police expressed concern over the prospects of throngs of Negroes, passing through lines of National Guardsmen to attend the funeral of a teen-age boy killed during last week's racial disorders here.

A wake for Larry Payne, 16, was scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. today and continue until 8 p.m., one hour after the city's nightly curfew begins.

The curfew was clamped on Memphis by Mayor Henry Loeb Thursday after a march led by the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., in support of striking garbage collectors turned into a riot.

The disquiet, chiefly in the form of nightly vandalism, continued into the early morning hours today. Police reported youths plundering stores, minor fire bombings, disturbances and curfew violations. The arrest total, already several hundred, continued to mount.

Couple Is Slain In Their Home

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—An Erie County man and wife were found slain in their rural home early today and their 12-year-old daughter was hospitalized with injuries apparently inflicted by the attacker.

Sheriff's deputies identified the couple as William Cassidy, 42, and his wife, Ann, 39, and both had been slain with a shotgun.

The Cassidy's daughter was listed in critical condition at Elyria Memorial Hospital. The nature of her injuries was not immediately known.

The Seal of the Confederate States of America was authorized in 1863, at the third session of the first Congress of Confederate States.

Harriman Old Hand At Diplomacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, the sophisticated millionaire who held seven jobs under President Harry S. Truman and three under President John F. Kennedy, has been tapped for another presidential mission with a familiar goal: Peace.

Harriman is 76 years old and if North Vietnam's representatives show up at the negotiating table, as President Johnson expressed hope Sunday night they will, they are destined to deal with a U.S. diplomat of almost unparalleled experience.

Johnson said in his nationwide address that Harriman and Soviet Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson will be ready to go to Geneva "or any other suitable place—just as soon as Hanoi agrees to a conference."

Harriman currently is ambassador at large and has for some time been active in U.S. efforts to secure peace talks.

Harriman has journeyed around the world on similar missions since the Cold War began at the close of World War II.

The scion of one of America's great railroad families—he once ran the Union Pacific Railroad—Harriman first came to Washington when Franklin D. Roosevelt was in the White House, working in key domestic agencies.

But diplomacy seemed his real love and Roosevelt gave him some challenging posts—work on the Lend Lease program just before the war which often meant European flights through air combat zones, and ambassador to Moscow in 1943.

He held the Moscow job for three years, dealing with Premier Josef Stalin through the end of the war and the dawn of a new era—a world divided between Communism and non-Communism.

In April 1946, Truman named him ambassador to Great Britain but Harriman held that job only six months before the President called him home to be secretary of commerce in a nation undergoing postwar economic convulsions.

Two years later Harriman was back in Europe with the rank of ambassador, working to revitalize Europe through the Marshall Plan. Other missions under Truman included working with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and heading the Mutual Security Administration.

Proving himself more than a successful appointee, he later took advantage of the enforced idleness of the presidential years of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower to run for and win the governorship of New York, serving a four-year term.

When Kennedy was elected, he quickly summoned Harriman to Washington as an ambassador-at-large and later in 1961 named him assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. In this post he did crucial work in Laos successfully aimed at preventing a major outbreak of hostilities there.

Eight months before his death, Kennedy made Harriman under secretary of state for political affairs.

Czech Judge Disappears

Foul Play, Suicide
Both Possibilities

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The Supreme Court judge heading an investigation of persecution during Czechoslovakia's Stalinist era has been missing since Thursday, and police say they still have no clues.

Authorities do not rule out foul play or suicide in the case of Dr. Jozef Brestansky, the nation's second-ranking judge, who was reported Sunday to have vanished after leaving his office for the Justice Ministry half a mile away.

Responsible sources said Brestansky had access to all secret records of the Stalinist purges and on a half-hearted rehabilitation in 1963 of some of the victims. They said he was certain to know who played behind-the-scenes roles in the purges and at whose orders the earlier rehabilitation was kept almost completely secret.

"We have no theory," a police spokesman said. "He may even have traveled to his brother in Slovakia."

But Brestansky's family said he had not mentioned such a trip. Several papers were left unfinished on his desk.

The case evoked memories of the death of Charles H. Jordan, an American aid executive who disappeared in Prague last August. His body was retrieved from the Vltava River four days later. That case is still open.

Negro Group Sets Up 'New Nation'

DETROIT (AP) — A group of black nationalists ratified a declaration of independence for a proposed separate Negro nation Sunday, then elected a fugitive-expatriate as its first president.

The president, Robert F. Williams, 42, has been in Peking, China, the last two years. He fled the United States for Cuba in late 1961 after being charged, with four other men, with kidnapping a white couple during a racial disturbance in Monroe, N.C., in 1960.

About 50 delegates to the black nationalist meeting reportedly signed the declaration of independence, an act which the meeting's sponsor said meant they renounced their U.S. citizenship.

The black nationalist convention over the weekend proposed a separate black nation with five southern states—Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and South Carolina—marked as the territory it wants.

The Malcolm X Society said it hopes the U.S. government will hand over the states.

2 Sharp Quakes Reported In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Two sharp earthquakes jolted Japan today. The first killed one person and injured 22 others, but there was no immediate report of damage or casualties from the second.

Both quakes had an intensity of four on a Japanese scale with a maximum of seven, the meteorological agency said, but the first, at 9:44 a.m., was slightly the stronger.

Four delegates and four alternates have been selected to represent this community at the annual Buckeye Girls' State June 15-18 at Capital University, Columbus.

They are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 25, Phi Beta Psi Sorority and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

The delegates are Poppy

Gorton and Sue Harper, of Washington High School, and Dinah Hixson and Gaye Flax, of Miami Trace High School.

The alternates are Karen Greer and Marjorie Lentz, of WHS, and Sherri Zimmerman and Lynda Wycoff, of MTHS.

All of the girls are juniors and will return to high school next fall.

Buckeye Girls' State is an Americanism project sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary and brings together girls from throughout the state for instruction in the functions of government on the county, city and state levels.

Its primary purpose is to instill devotion to their country in the young women who will be the leaders of tomorrow in perpetuating American ideals and the democratic process of government.

At Buckeye Girls' State, the delegates will make political campaigns for election to county, city and state offices and conduct all phases of government.

Drug Cache Confiscated In Kentucky
COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Authorities confiscated a drug cache estimated to be worth at least $250,000 Sunday night in a raid on a Covington laboratory described as a front for the manufacture of hallucinatory drugs.

The laboratory—a converted warehouse—was known as Southern Scientific Co., but a federal spokesman said the company "had no legitimate business as far as we know."

Taken into custody under a warrant of manufacturing a drug against the provisions of the Federal Drug Act were:

John B. Spelz, 31, Covington; Charles H. Reinking, 18, Cincinnati; and Clark R. Moore, Columbus, Ohio.

The three were jailed at Newport overnight, and were scheduled to appear before U.S. Commissioner Robert C. Cetrulo today.

A federal agent said a field check of some of the substances showed they were hallucinogenic drugs. He did not specify the types.

Keefe Plans Graduate Study In International Journalism

Joseph D. Keefe, a 1965 graduate of Washington High School, has been accepted for admission into a graduate study program at Ohio State University which is the only one of its kind.

Keefe will begin study in the graduate program of international journalism in September after receiving a bachelor of arts degree from OSU Aug. 30. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Keefe, 803 Clinton Ave.

The two-year international journalism program is designed to prepare students for work as foreign news correspondents or foreign news analysts. Ohio State is the only school with such a program.

Keefe will spend his first year studying on campus and then will work and study in Europe and the Soviet Union during the second year. He will receive a master of arts degree in 1970.

As an undergraduate he has majored in journalism and specialized in the affairs of Communist nations and the Russian language. He ranks in the upper quarter of his class with a 3.0 average.

Keefe also has been awarded a grant of $2,700 as a teaching assistant at Ohio State during his year of study on campus. He is expected to teach elementary news reporting.

Keefe was editor-in-chief of The Lantern, OSU's student newspaper, during the fall quarter of 1967. He worked part-time as a sports writer and sports editor for the Record-Herald from 1960 to 1965 and worked last summer for the Galvin Newspaper Group.

Burt Bacharach Again Up For An Academy Award

By LINDA DEUTSCH Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When he begins to rattle off the names of songs he's written—"Alfie," "The Look of Love," "What the World Needs Now is Love," "What's New Pussycat," "I Say a Little Prayer"—Burt Bacharach's humility gets the best of him and he refuses to continue. "I've stopped counting the hits," says the handsome young composer. "There are more important things."

Three times nominated for Academy Awards, Bacharach and his collaborator, Hal David, are up this year for "The Look of Love."

Burt admits he'd like to win, "but it's such an honor to be nominated three years in a row. And one realizes, after all, that the Oscar is just a possession."

Last year Bacharach was nominated for "Alfie" and the year before for "What's New Pussycat."

Now, with disc jockeys announcing his name along with each record, Bacharach, 38, lean and blue-eyed with salt-and-pepper hair, is riding the wave of success like an experienced surfer—careful to keep from toppling.

The cornerstone of his creativity is the belief that he must write songs that please Burt Bacharach.

"At this point, people will tell me a song sounds great even if it's only mediocre. In the end you have to rely on your own ear. If something isn't right I know it and I have to start again."

Bacharach, who says he often works all night to keep up with his commitments, has sent songs into the marketplace believing they would flop. "I never thought 'Wives and Lovers' would go," he recalls, "or that 'Alfie' would be popular with both adults and kids."

What is the secret of bridging the generation gap?

"I don't know. It's some unknown mystique of dramatic and emotional content," says Bacharach. "I guess the kids have become more sophisticated and the adults have become less snobbish."

Raised in New York, he graduated from a Canadian college and several music schools. In 1959 he wrote a song called "Magic Moments" which became a Perry Como hit.

But soon after he was offered the job of conducting the orchestra for an around-the-world concert tour with Marlene Dietrich.

Then one day he began composing again, and the hits started piling up.

That was about the same time that he discovered singer Dionne Warwick. He now produces all of her records and manages her career.

He is married to actress Angie Dickinson and they have a daughter, Lea, nearly 2.

His latest project is scoring the musical version of "The Apartment" scheduled to open on Broadway in the fall. Neil Simon has written the book, Hal David is doing lyrics and David Merrick is producing.

The show is to be called "Promises, Promises," and Merrick is reported so pleased with Burt's score that he has asked him to do another show.

But Burt has no definite plans.

Middletown Man Held In Murder

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 19-year-old soldier absent without leave from Ft. Campbell, Ky., is scheduled to appear for arraignment in Franklin Municipal Court today in the slaying of a Middletown housewife March 17.

Kerry McLean Martin, who gave his home address as Middletown, was charged Saturday with first-degree murder of Mrs. Jenella Haynes, 29, whose battered body was found on a wooded knoll in Franklin Township, just east of Middletown.

Martin was taken into custody by Middletown police Friday night and initially held on the AWOL charge. He later was charged with the murder by the Warren County sheriff's office.

Authorities said they became suspicious after Martin gave them false information, including a false name, after he was arrested Friday night.

WCH Student Applies For New ROTC Course

Carl Elberfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Elberfeld Sr. of Washington C. H., and a sophomore at Morehead (Ky.) State University, is among 59 students there who have applied for the school's newly-offered two-year accelerated Reserve Officers Training Corps program which starts in September.

Two types of training will be offered in the new general military science program, which will include training in all 14 branches of the Army.

Under the accelerated program, the first Morehead ROTC student to be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army will receive his gold bars in June of 1970. The first students successfully completing the four-year program will be commissioned in June of 1972.

Work Out Rules For Fresh Fish

ROME (AP) — The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization has worked out 111 rules for handling fresh fish.

"The main requirements for good handling of fish are to chill it quickly and keep it chilled from the catch to the retailer," the report said.

It went on to recommend that manual handling of the fish be avoided, that only potable water be used to wash the fish, and that fish unfit to eat be separated from food fish.

It all depends on how you tilt it

All we want to do is make a point. □ The way we've tilted the chart, it looks as though the cost of living for the past nine years has stayed the same, while the cost of your telephone service has gone down. Now we all know the cost of living hasn't stayed the same. Prices have been climbing steadily. Yes—but not quite all of them. □ Local telephone rates haven't changed since 1959. (And just last November, long distance rates were reduced for the seventh time since 1959.) And with most everything else going up, local telephone service becomes more and more of a bargain just by staying the same. So really, no matter how you tilt it, the facts still prove there is a bargain left in the world. Your telephone service. Ohio Bell

Here's New Head Of Bookworms

MARTHA BLADES

Miss Martha Blades, daughter of Mrs. Frank Blades Jr. of 633 Van Deman Street, is another featured president this week.

Martha is president of the WHS Bookworms Club with Mrs. Kathleen Scott serving as the adviser.

She is a junior, with her other main interest in sewing. She is a three-year member of a sewing circle. She also enjoys television and likes music. She belongs to the Choraliers of the First Baptist Church where she attends regularly.

The Blue Lines wishes her the best of success in the future.

Five Seniors On Roster

Baseball Prospects Good

The Blue Lions will feature five returning seniors in the 1968 baseball season. Among these are Terry Brown, Steve Dawson, Jim Tatman, Doug Wallace and Doug Grubb.

TERRY BROWN, all-SCOL third baseman and last year's league-leading hitter with a .478 average, was a pitcher last year and is credited with a one-hitter and a two-hitter. Much of the Blue Lion's hope rest on Terry and in early practices he looks like he'll live up to all expectations.

STEVE DAWSON, short stop and lead off hitter for the last three years, is quick on the bases and as lead-off man batted .370 in league play with only two errors to his credit. Steve broke an ankle in football and had an operation this spring. Just out of the cast March 14, he is looking far better than we expected.

JIM TATMAN is in his third year of varsity ball and coaches are looking for great things from this determined senior. He is a big boy at 6-2 and 210 pounds. He is the best of backstops, but has lacked in hitting in the past year. In early outside hitting this year Jim seems to have found himself.

DOUG WALLACE, a 6-3 "lefty", ended the season last year with a one-hitter against

STEVE DAWSON AND JIM TATMAN

Greenfield. Doug has shown a lot of improvement this spring and the Blue Lions will rely a great deal on his left arm.

DOUG GRUBB was a front running pitcher last year as a junior. He keeps the ball low and has excellent control. He is small and deceiving in his speed.

THE JUNIORS this year will mean a lot to Blue Lion success. Junior pitchers with varsity experience will be STEVE SWORD, 6-1 right-hander and FRED KELLY, 5-10 right hander. Fred played on the American Legion team which went to the state tournament last summer. He has excellent control and is a smart pitcher. Fred was credited with a two-hitter last season. He also carried the Washington Little League All-Stars to the state tournament several years ago.

LOWELL HARPER will hold down center field. Lowell is a 6-2, 185 pound power hitter. He has excellent speed and a quick start which enables him to cover much of the out field. Lowell was credited with three runners thrown out at home plate last summer in Legion play, which speaks well for his arm. Batting average last year .307. Lowell was also the Central Ohio District's first team fullback in football this past season. An excellent athlete.

ALAN JOSEPH, pitcher and outfielder, will give us added strength at the plate. Alan played here in younger years, but moved to California last year and Hey boys, you better hurry and ask your gal to the Junior-Senior Prom. Time's running out. The prom, which is Saturday, is free of charge for all juniors and seniors. Tickets for guests are $1.50 and can be purchased in the dean's office.

The Quill and Scroll Assembly will be held Wednesday during the seventh and eighth period. Induction of new members will take place at this time.

Blue Lions held on March 27, their first track meet, Friday against Hillsboro.

A film entitled "Richard III" was shown to the student body on March 27. The 2 1/2 hour Shakespearean movie was sponsored by Student Council.

The Junior Y-Teens have recently planned to visit and entertain the patients in the rest homes of Washington C. H. During the Easter season. The girls are going to make candy favors and plan skits for each home. Later, in the spring, they are planning to have a hayride. Also, the juniors will participate in the Y-Teen Breakfast to be held in May. Brenda Pine is president and Mrs. Ruth Scott, adviser.

At the February meeting of the Sophomore Y-Teens, Mrs. Nancy Bonecutter, owner of The Top Beauty Salon, spoke to the group on hair-styling and personal grooming. Plans for the future include a fund-raising project to benefit the Y-Teen Breakfast in May. Plans have not been completely decided upon, but it will probably consist of babysitting or participating in odd jobs in the community. The adviser is Mrs. Ann Eleess.

now has returned. His bat may mean the difference this year. Sophomores will play a large part in our overall plan as one or two will start and we hope several will get some varsity experience on the mound.

The Blue Lions look forward better season than last year when they were 5-10 overall. Of the 10 losses, seven were by one run and five of these were on outfield errors. We think they have filled those holes and with more experience and better pitching, can overcome the one-run losses of last year.

Senior Of The Week

MELISSA BRUBAKER

This week, Blue Lines would like to introduce Melissa Brubaker as student of the week. She is the 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brubaker, 315 N. Main St.

Lissa is quite active at WHS. She is a member of Y-Teens, AFS, where she holds the office of treasurer, Sunburst Staff, Thespians, choir and also finds time to sing and play the guitar in a folk group, in "Interaction Attraction."

Some of her hobbies are playing the guitar, horseback riding and reading.

Lissa attends St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. After graduation she plans to attend Mary Washington or Earlham College and major in history or psychology.

We would like to wish Lissa the best of luck in her years to come!

A Good Example

(AN EDITORIAL)

At the end of last summer, Americans viewed their riot-stricken land with much grief and sorrow. Not since the Civil War had there been such internal unrest in the United States. And now, as we approach another summer, there is speculation that this summer will see even more civil unrest than before.

Almost everyday there are speeches made by Negro militant leaders advocating black power. They claim that there is no way for whites and negroes to live together peacefully. Yet right here in our community, the protagonists have been proved wrong.

The musical comedy, "Finian's Rainbow," portrayed the fate of an Irish emigrant in the South. It was typical of the bigotry and prejudice which is shown today. The cast, not including dancers and chorus, was comprised of approximately 11 Negroes and nine whites. The cooperation and hard work indulged by both in the musical was beyond belief. Citizens of this community may be proud of their youth. For the youth who performed in this musical proved beyond a measure of a doubt the extent to which people of the world can live together peacefully.

The entire show was a credit to WHS and its students. On behalf of the student body, we wish to offer our sincerest thanks and approval to Mr. and Mrs. Nick Martello, and anyone else involved with making "Finian's Rainbow" a success.

pictures were shown on religion, government and the countryside of Spain. As the movie progressed Mr. Bumiller gave all of the details of each picture. Mr. Bumiller is from Cincinnati. He has made several trips to different countries around the world.

Education Cost Up

HONOLULU AP) — Hawaii's public school student-teacher ratio has dropped in the past five years from 30.2 students per teacher to 25.3 students. And the cost of educating each student has increased in the same period from $344 in 1962-63 to $582 in 1967-68.

And the cost, says the State Department of Education, will jump to $609 in 1968-69.

President Of The Week

Our President of the Week is Paul Alshire, a sophomore at Washington High School.

Paul lives with his parents, Eva and Richard Alshire, at 828 Millwood Ave. He is the President of the Sophomore Class, in which he spends his time carefully.

Paul enjoys all sports, mostly football and baseball. His hobbies are painting, swimming, and again, participating in sports. He is taking the industrial course, but he wants to be a teacher.

This summer Paul will be spending a lot of time painting, one of his hobbies; he is very good at it.

We want to wish him the best of luck in the future.

Panther Trackmen Must Do 'Double Duty' This Year

By DAVE RANKIN
Record-Herald Sports Writer

With only 21 boys out for this year's Miami Trace High School track team Coach Carl Wilt definitely has his work cut out for him.

And as Wilt said, "These boys will have to be 'ironmen' because most will be doing double, even triple duty. We'll probably have five or six others handling four events which is extremely hard even for a boy in top physical condition."

John Pero, Rick Shepard, Phil Bihl, Ron Harper and Dan Hoppes were mentioned as possibilities for four main events and when Ed Summers takes time from his baseball playing to participate in track he will probably handle four. Pero and Shepard are two of the fastest men on the squad and also serve as co-captains of the unit.

Seniors and juniors provide most of the depth and numbers for the team with eleven seniors and six juniors on the roster. However, there are only six lettermen back from last year, causing speculation that the Panthers would not be a very tough squad this season. Since these early predictions, the Panthers have shown tremendous improvement motivated by outstanding desire.

Shepard and Harper will anchor the 100-yard dash while Harper, Summers and Pero seem to be the best in the 440. Mike McCoy and Mike Duff lead the field in the 880-yard dash and Duff also runs the mile with Wayne Dalton, Don Shipley and Roger Parks. Duff is probably the fastest of this group and has turned in fast times in the 880 during the last few days.

SOPHOMORE Rodney Swigert paces the Panther two milers along with Dalton and Shipley. Phil Bihl and senior Bill Mace handle the high hurdles as Bihl, John Pero and Rod Wright go in the low hurdles.

The mile relay team remains undecided with hopes of a good combination turning up by Tuesday. McCoy, Pero, Summers, Hoppes, Swigert and sophomore Jim Grim are vying for the team. Pero, Hoppes, McCoy and either Summers or Swigert appear to be the best of this outfit with Grim a sleeper. According to Coach Wilt, his two sophomores, Grim and Swigert, are doing an exceptional job and improve everyday.

The Waddle brothers, Jack and Jay, have been throwing the shotput along with Jim Ford and Jerry Wilt. Jack Waddle, Ford and Summers are handling the discus throw. Summers is strong at this event and should provide the Panthers with one of their brighter spots in the discus.

Hoppes and Bihl look strong at the high jump and in the broad jump Roger Donohoe and Shepard are likely candidates.

Two boys are giving the tough pole vault a try. They are Pero and Jeff Teeters with possible competition from Dan Farmer.

TUESDAY'S tentatively scheduled date with Teays Valley is still on. Coach Wilt said that Teays Valley had not notified him of any changes so the meet is scheduled for 4:30 p.m. at Teays Valley.

Wilt said in conclusion that he had gotten a chance to watch both Greenfield and Wilmington recently and compared them to rather evenly matched. He said Washington C. H. looked good and although he had not seen Circleville, speculated that, "they always come up with a good team." Asked about Hillsboro, he responded with, "They have only one way to go — up." That's about the way the Panthers must look at the upcoming campaign with such a small squad and so few lettermen.

Cage Players Eye Olympics Rules

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Adapting to international rules remains the biggest hurdle U.S. Olympic basketball candidates must overcome, according to Coach Henry Iba.

"They have to be more aggressive on that board play," Iba said, "and they don't know how to foul for profit yet."

Iba made his remarks Saturday after the West beat the East 95-88 in the annual college all-star game held this year in conjunction with the Olympic preliminaries.

Stables Open At Northfield

The tempo of activity at Northfield Park night harness track quickened Monday when the stable gates opened to accommodate horsemen shipping in for the Painesville Raceway meeting which opens Saturday, April 13th. New nightly post time will be 8 p.m.

Many of the driver-trainers indicating an early arrival are anxious to complete "on the scene" training moves because they wintered their stock in northern locations. Having limited their horses to light training at county fair ground tracks, these horsemen are hoping for warm, dry weather to allow for more intensive conditioning efforts between Monday and the April 13th opening program.

Among the first arrivals expected are: Fred (Maestro) Bach, Mantua, Ohio, reinsman who is shipping in ten horses which he wintered at Lexington, Ky., and several stables which raced all winter at the recently-completed Windsor, Canada meeting, including Gerry Bookmyer, of Tiffin, who won more than 60 dashes at the Windsor meeting.

Jim Tatman Receives Grid Grant To Marietta College

Jim Tatman, senior defensive tackle on the Washington High School football team, has received an athletic grant-in-aid to Marietta College, announces Blue Lion Coach Maurice Pfeifer.

The 6-2, 210-pound lineman lettered two years on the squad, playing his first varsity year as an offensive end. He is also in his third year of baseball as a catcher and played basketball one year.

Marietta Coach Joe McDaniel, whose team competes in the Ohio Conference, plans to use Tatman as a lineman. Also noted as a baseball school, Marietta will gain the services of Tatman as a backstop.

Tatman, who carries an accumulative academic average of 2.7, plans to major in petroleum engineering. Marietta is one of the few schools in the country which offers such a degree.

The school also participates in crew, basketball and golf in addition to the three normal sports.

Jim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tatman, 929 Millwood Ave., was coached his freshman year in football by John Skinner. When he moved to the varsity under Coach Pfeifer, he again was coached as an end by Skinner. His senior year, he came under the guidance of line coaches John Morris and Bill Martin.

Tribe Manager Alvin Dark was in Palm Springs, so he was with the losers. Steve Hargan worked six innings, and was followed by three other pitchers, including Hal Kurtz, who apparently has made the varsity. Kurtz, a 24-year-old rookie, will get the word Tuesday.

California rallied to beat the Tribe on singles by Jay Johnstone, Rick Reichardt and Chuck Hinton in the 11th. The Tribe had taken the lead in the top half of the inning on Tommy Harper's two-run single.

Hargan said one more exhibition outing and "I'll be ready." The right-hander said he used all his pitches, including "five or six" half-speed curves.

"I never said I was going to scrap the curve," added Hargan, who was plagued by elbow trouble last season. "I only said I might if it gives my elbow any more trouble."

"But it isn't hurting me now. Maybe it's only a matter of throwing my curve easier. What it really is now is a sort of change-up breaking pitch."

Hargan will get his next chance Friday against the San Francisco Giants in San Diego.

Fayette Softball Meeting Scheduled

There will be a meeting of the Fayette County Softball Association at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Armco Barracks, announces Gene Fout, president of the league.

Anyone interested in entering a new team is requested to have a representative at the meeting. Managers from clubs which were in the league last year and persons interested in umpiring are also requested to attend.

Election of new officers is on the agenda.

In addition, pitcher Sammy Ellis, obtained from Cincinnati, was unpredictable.

Ellis, a 22-game winner in 1965, was hit hard as the exhibition season progressed.

While Ellis was having his troubles, the Angels were encouraged by the improvement of Fred Newman, whose arm ailments limited him to only five wins over the last two seasons. Newman was a mainstay of the pitching staff in 1964-65, with 13-10 and 14-16 records.

The Angels are hoping that one of them can join the starting rotation of George Brunet, 11-19 last year, Ricky Clark, 12-11 and Jim McGlothlin, 12-8.

Best of the young pitching candidates are Ken Tatum, 12-6 at San Jose, Calif., and Marty Patten, 12-11 at Seattle.

Jack Hamilton, 2-0 for the New York Mets and 9-6 for the Angels, and Minnie Rojas, 12-9, head the bullpen corps.

The Angels began the spring with only four certain regulars — Don Mincher, 273 with 25 homers, at first; Bobby Knoop, 245, at second; Jim Fregosi, 290, at short; and Rick Reichardt, 265 with 17 homers, in left.

Reds Bomb Yankees 8-2; Mel Queen Notches Win

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds rested easy in the dugout, knowing that when pitcher Mel Queen enumerates his arm ailments he usually comes through in winning form.

That's what happened Sunday when Cincinnati defeated the New York Yankees 8-2—largely on the strength of Queen's five innings.

"My arm feels all right. I guess it's time to stop worrying," the converted outfielder said afterward.

What pleased Mel was control. He said he felt he could have gone beyond the fifth, but pitching coach Mel Harder "told me the time to get out is when the arm is loose."

Actually, the game was already in the bag—as the Reds collected five runs in the third after picking up a couple in the first.

The Yankees' two runs came in the eighth on Andy Kosko's home run.

The National League has parted company with the Washington Senators. It's the best thing that's happened to the National League all spring.

Washington pushed over an unearned run in the eighth inning Sunday and edged the Houston Astros 3-2, completing an 11-game exhibition sweep over National League opposition.

The victory gave the Senators an over-all record of 15-5—best in the exhibition circuit.

Bernie Allen singled in the eighth, moved around to third on two infield outs and scored the winning run on one of three errors committed by Hector Torres, the Astros' rookie shortstop. Ken McMullen delivered the other Washington runs with a homer and sacrifice fly.

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's All-star third baseman, was hit below the left ear by a Steve Blass pitch in the fifth inning of Pittsburgh's 3-1 victory over the Orioles. Robinson, who was wearing an ear flap on his batting helmet, escaped serious injury but will miss tonight's game against the Senators.

Tommy Davis' three-run homer and the shutout pitching of Bob Priddy, Bob Locker, Wilbur Wood and Don McMahon led the Chicago White Sox to a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia, ending the Phils' winning streak at five games.

The Tigers nipped St. Louis 6-5 in 12 innings, Wayne Comer delivering the tie-breaking run with a pinch double. Mickey

The Kentucky Derby, America's most famous horse race, is shaping up as the most wide open in years.

There are at least 13 colts whose credentials stamp them as contenders in the 94th running of the $125,000 Triple Crown classic at Churchill Downs in Louisville, Ky. May 4.

Currently heading the list is Forward Pass and Alley Fighter, the winners of last Saturday's $134,000 Florida Derby and the $147,100 Santa Anita Derby, respectively.

The other leading 3-year-olds include Vitriolic, Captain's Gig, Iron Ruler, Wise Exchange, Bugged, Don B., T.V. Commercial, Dancer's Image, Verbatim, Clevel Foot and Dewan.

Stanley hit a three-run homer and Willie Horton a solo blast for the winners.

Rod Carew's 12th-inning homer gave the Twins a 3-2 nod over Boston. Elston Howard drove in the Red Sox runs with a single and homer.

Los Angeles clipped Ron Herbel for six runs in the first three innings and held off San Francisco 9-7 despite homers by the Giants' Willie McCovey and Jackie Hiatt.

Atlanta rookie Ron Reed scattered four hits through seven innings and reliever Claude Raymond completed a seven-hit, 2-0 victory for the Braves over the New York Mets, who have been blanked twice in a row and six times.

5 New Entries Make Indy 500 List Grow

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Five entries today, including new cars for John Surtees of England and Al Unser of Albuquerque, N. M., increased the official list to 39 for the 52nd running of the annual 500-Mile Race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on May 30.

Unser, who finished second for the same sponsor in last year's "500," will be in the cockpit of the Retzliff Chemical Special. He is a veteran of three previous Indianapolis races.

Surtees, a former Grand Prix champion seeking a starting position here for the first time, will be at the wheel of a Bowes Seal Fast Special.

Each of them will have a new chassis designed by Lola Cars, Ltd. of England for either four-wheel-drive or rear-wheel-drive operation. The cars will be powered by 168-cubic-inch turbocharged Ford engines and George Bignotti will be the crew chief.

In addition to gaining runner-up honors at "Indy" last year, Unser placed second in four other USAC championship races and earned enough points during the season for fifth place in the 1967 drivers' standing. He also started the 1968 campaign with a second-place finish in the 200-mile opener on March 17 at Hanford, Cal.

Surtees, who won international fame in motorcycle races during the 1950s, has been a regular on the Grand Prix circuit for seven years. He won the world's formula I title in 1964 as a member of the Ferrari factory team and his record last season included a victory for Honda in the Italian Grand Prix.

He is very much aware of the challenge which the Indianapolis track offers because it was possible for him to drive several laps here during

New Tennis Plan Draws Criticism

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the world's top players, Roy Emerson and Arthur Ashe, predicted today that the International Lawn Tennis Federation's plan to create a new category — the authorized player — would not work.

"It seems awful complicated to me—I don't think it will work," said Emerson, the veteran Australian who has won all the world's top amateur titles, some several times.

"It's ridiculous. I don't think it will last six months," said Ashe, Negro member of the U.S. Davis Cup Team.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—

By ESTRELLITA

For Tomorrow

PLANETARY influences for Tuesday indicate the possibility of conflict in personal relationships. Be especially careful in dealings with superiors, elders, anyone in a position of authority. The same aspects could also bring disappointment in romantic or social communications.

For The Birthday

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, where job and financial matters are concerned, your pattern will be a somewhat varied one during the next 12 months. Despite some small gains star-promised between May 15th and July 15th, it will be imperative that you be conservative in monetary affairs until September 15th (and especially during the first two weeks of that month). Immediately after that date, however, you will enter an excellent 2-month cycle which will bring many opportunities for increasing assets. Other good periods on the fiscal front will occur in early December, next February and March but, here again, it's important to emphasize the necessity of caution in intervening months, or you could offset gains.

Your chart indicates that you should have a generally good year where occupational interests are concerned, with splendid chances of advancement promised in July, late September, early December, next January and March. Creative workers should find the entire months of June, September, December, January and February outstanding for accomplishment. In your personal life, you have some happy prospects in store. Both romance and social life will hold the celestial spotlight between June 15th and September 15th; also between November 15th and January 1st; next February and March. These will all be excellent periods in which to make new friendships, meet interesting members of the opposite sex and establish contacts with persons of influence who could eventually prove invaluable in a material way. Stars don't promise much in the way of travel (except for short trips) for the balance of 1968, but the early months of 1969 will be highly propitious.

A child born on this day could make an outstanding success in business or industry; will have a great love of music and literature.

C. Of C. Opens Nominations For Directors

The more than 400 members of the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce have been asked to choose before next Monday, a slate of 12 candidates who will run later for six openings on the Chamber's board of directors.

Directors whose three-year terms expire in 1968 are the president, Dr. William Lawyer, Howell D. Bell, Leo Edwards, Walter Morrow and Elmer J. Weemhoff. The board presently is one short of its usual 15 elected members, so one additional man will be selected this year.

Members are entitled to nominate anyone from the Chamber's entire membership roster except persons who live outside Fayette County or who already are on the board. Ballots will be tabulated starting next week, and the 12 men with the most nominating votes will become official candidates. Results of the final election will be announced at the Chamber's annual meeting in June.

Directors now serving their second year are Jack Alkire, Laurence Dumford, Carroll Halliday, A. C. Heer and E. C. Vollette. First-year directors are Gilbert Crouse, Thomas Isphording, Charles Meriweather and David Six. Honorary members include City Manager Mike Clancy, William Evans and Frank B. Sollars.

This year's election committee is composed of Harlan Baird, chairman; Gene Bienz and James Kiger.

Suit Is Settled As Jurors Wait

Parties to a $60,000 damage suit agreed to a private settlement Monday morning, bringing about a dismissal of prospective jurors called to hear the case in Common Pleas Court.

Mary L. Moore, Columbus, had filed the action last Nov. 27 against Ronald Alan Dunaway, of Milford, in connection with an Interstate 71 traffic accident in Fayette County in which the defendant's car struck from behind the one in which the plaintiff was riding. Mrs. Moore charged Dunaway with negligence and asked funds to cover medical expenses resulting from injuries, and loss of earnings because of disability.

County Board Meets Tonight

The Fayette County Board of Education faces a comparatively light agenda for its first April meeting Monday at 8 p.m.

Items up for discussion include proposed extended pay for teachers who work beyond the regular classroom day, a report on grades at Miami Trace High School, the current tax situation in the Miami Trace district, the high school's driver education course for this summer and possible appointment of another board member to replace Board President Marion Waddle on the high school Athletic Council.

Burglars Take $20 In Coins

Burglars forced their way into a Washington C. H. service station overnight Sunday and stole approximately $20 in coins, city police said Monday morning.

Fred Ramey, manager of Hixon's Sunoco station, 1156 Columbus Ave. discovered the break-in when he opened the business at 6:30 a.m. Monday.

Ramey said the intruders pried open a door and ransacked the station office. Quarters and other change was taken from a cash box hidden in the office, he said.

Officers, who said the station was locked at 9:20 p.m. Sunday, estimated damage to the door at $40.

Youth Badly Hurt In Rural Crackup

A Greenfield youth was seriously injured and his companion suffered abrasions and bruises when their vehicle overturned on Stafford Road just south of Buena Vista Sunday afternoon.

A Washington C.H. man was charged with traffic law infractions in each of two separate mishaps in which he was involved with in a two-hour span the same afternoon.

In all, four persons were injured in four traffic accidents investigated in the city-county area over the weekend. Officers estimated total damage at more than $1,400 to seven vehicles.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies said Robert L. Hester, 18, was brought to Fayette Memorial Hospital where he was admitted with fractures of the left elbow and right kneecap, a lacerated left leg and multiple abrasions.

Karen Lightner, 16, of Leesburg, a passenger in his car, was treated in the hospital's emergency room and released.

Hester told officers that he attempted to pass another car while southbound at 5:30 p.m. and his vehicle ran off the left side of the road. It traveled 161 feet on the left berm, struck a culvert, flipped upside down — traveling 40 feet through the air — and landed on its top in the right ditch.

Deputies, who said they are continuing the investigation, described the 1960 model vehicle at a total loss.

CLAUDE BRUNER, 88, of 831 Washington Ave., was charged by city police with traffic law

Only 8 Highway Deaths In Ohio Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio posted another relatively safe weekend on the highways, with only eight traffic fatalities reported, about half the average weekend death toll.

All but one of the mishaps were single-death accidents. The lone exception was an accident which occurred Sunday when a car containing four teenagers lost a race with a speeding passenger train to a crossing in Munroe Falls, Summit County.

Three of the youths died and a fourth was injured seriously. The deaths:

Saturday
Patrick E. Quinn, 19, Wintersville, Jefferson County, died when his car crashed on U.S. 22 near Wintersville.

Olden D. Palmer, 13, Akron, died when his bicycle was hit by a car on the Medina County Line Road.

Mrs. Clarence Snyder, 24, Rt. 2, Kingston, Ross County, was killed when her car collided with a truck on U.S. 50 five miles east of Chillicothe.

Darl Clemmons, 19, Rt. 1, Alger, Hardin County, was killed when his car brushed another auto and his vehicle overturned in a field along Ohio 67 near Kenton.

Haroley G. McCartney, 75, Rt. 2, was injured seriously.

First Aid Course Completed By 25

Two Boy Scouts and 23 adults completed the standard course in first aid at the second session for the class Sunday morning in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

The course is sponsored by the Buckeye Citizens Band (radio) Association unit here. Everett Vance, 113 W. Oak St., was the instructor.

The first of three sessions for the advanced course will be held in the Farm Bureau auditorium April 28. The two succeeding sessions are scheduled for May 5 and May 19.

Pickaway Officer Injured In Chase

CIRCLEVILLE — Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Richard Clark was slightly injured and his cruiser moderately damaged early Monday when he lost control of it in pursuit of a speeder.

The Sheriff's Department said the mishap occurred at 2:40 a.m. on the Circleville-Commercial Point Road, 13 miles northwest of Circleville.

Deputy Clark said he was chasing a car when the cruiser slid off the road and went through a fence. He was admitted to Circleville Hospital complaining of a back injury. The other car got away, the Sheriff's Department said.

The New York senator will be in Cleveland to address the City Club Forum at noon.

War Action Slows Down On LBJ Order

SAIGON (AP) — American bombers and warships halted their attacks on most of North Vietnam today, one day after strikes close to Hanoi, Haiphong and the Chinese border.

The cutback in the bombing ordered by President Johnson was the 10th curtailment in the air war against the Communist North since it began on Feb. 7, 1965.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters said the reduction in the bombing was in effect by the time the President began his television statement announcing it, at 10 a.m. Saigon time.

The U.S. Command said American fighter-bombers confined their attacks on North Vietnam today to the area just above the demilitarized zone, hitting enemy storage complexes, truck convoys and gun positions.

Only a few hours before, the U.S. Command announced that American planes on Sunday attacked the Cat Bi airfield four miles southeast of the center of Haiphong, the radio communications station 10 miles south-southeast of Hanoi, a chemical plant 19 miles northeast of Haiphong, the Cam Pha coal area, 44 miles east-northeast of Haiphong, and the Lang Gai railway, 18 miles below the Chinese border.

It was learned that U.S. planes also will continue reconnaissance and aerial photographic missions all over North Vietnam, including the Red River Valley area from Hanoi to the Chinese border.

The President made no reference to the bombing of the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos, over which thousands of tons of war material and thousands of troops move into South Vietnam. Presumably, this air campaign will continue, with more warplanes available to strike the North Vietnamese supply routes and buildup areas in that country.

In ground fighting, Viet Cong forces broke through Marine and South Vietnamese defenses about 15 miles southeast of Hue Sunday and blasted two key bridges on the allies' main supply highway to South Vietnam's northern frontier.

Nine Viet Cong soldiers and 14 Marines were reported killed and 30 Marines wounded in a 40-minute exchange of machine-gun and mortar fire and grenades at the two bridges over the Truoi River. South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

About 14 miles northwest of Hue, infantrymen of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division moved in by helicopter and reported killing 30 Viet Cong soldiers after an air observer spotted an enemy force of 80 to 100 men.

It was the second straight day of sharp fighting across the northern frontier area. U.S. Marines, Army infantrymen and South Vietnamese troops reported killing 274 North Vietnamese in a series of engagements Saturday from Khe Sanh on the west to Gio Linh on the east.

WHS Musical Performance Wins Plaudits

Another near-capacity audience of about 900 applauded the second performance of "Finian's Rainbow" presented by the Washington High School Music Department Saturday night in the school auditorium.

At the conclusion of the final performance, the audience was so enthusiastic and persistent that three musical numbers were repeated as encores before the applause subsided.

After the costumes had been changed and the grease paint wiped off, everyone connected with the production — plus dates — went to the Country Club for the cast party.

The scenery, which created the illusions of "Rainbow Valley," was designed by Mrs. Nicholas Martello, the wife of the director. Miss Joyce Lee, of the WHS faculty, was the choreographer.

Children's Home Talks Scheduled

Any formal investigation of security measures at the Fayette County Children's Home won't come for at least another week — if at all — Laurence Dumford, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, said Monday.

"We are set up, and have been for about three weeks," he said, "for a meeting next Monday with the local Child Welfare Board and representatives of the Child Welfare Division of the State Welfare Department. We cannot say at this time what will come from that meeting, but it is certain nothing will be done before then."

Both Dumford and Commissioner Robert Fichthorn indicated last Thursday and Friday that some type of investigation is almost certain to come as a result of testimony during a Juvenile Court trial that disclosed reports of boys and girls meeting in one another's dormitories and other buildings after-hours, with such conditions existing over a period of years. They did not say to what extent it would go.

However, Dumford said Monday that "while we're not overlooking what has been brought to light — it is certain to have a bearing on our meeting next week — I'm not at all sure that 'investigation' is the word we want to use."

HE EXPLAINED that the meeting with child welfare authorities was originally set up to "discuss the situation at the Children's Home and to determine how our child welfare program will be handled in the future."

In a two-day jury trial last week, Martin C. Smith, 18-year-old former resident at the home and still a ward of the board, was found guilty of "acting in a way tending to cause the delinquency" of a 13-year-old girl whom he was said to have visited in the girls' dormitory last Nov. 26.

The jury acquitted him of similar charges involving three other youths, two girls and a boy ages 15 to 17, whom he was said to have met later the same night in a recreation room, located in another building.

Smith and other children called to testify said such conditions have been a matter of course at the home for years, although all said they were aware such actions are against the rules of the institution.

3 Face Hearing In Tennessee Store Break-In

JACKSBORO, Tenn. (AP)—Two young men and a teen-aged girl faced preliminary hearing in Sessions Court today on charges of breaking and entering a rural store near here.

Campbell County Sheriff George C. Smith said Richard Stout, 24, Covington, Ohio; Darrell Young, 18, Silver Hill, Ky., and Brenda Fowler, 15, Piqua, Ohio, were accused of breaking into a store in the Morley community March 3.

Smith said Mrs. Jerome Teague, wife of the store operator, shot Young during the break-in. He has recovered from a .38 caliber pistol bullet wound in the chest.

Young has been at liberty under $1,000 bond, but Stout and the Fowler girl were unable to post bail and have been held in jail.

Courts

JUVENILE COURT

Three Washington C. H. youths, two girls and a boy, were penalized as juvenile traffic offenders following appearances before Juvenile Judge Omar A. Schwartz Saturday.

Suspended from driving for 30 days were Mary C. Aills Cline, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aills, 1218 Rawlings St., cited for failure to heed a red light, and Mary J. Coates, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coates, 301 Clearview Rd. Mrs. Cline was ordered to pay damages resulting from an accident in her case, and Mrs. Coates must pass an oral test on Ohio driving laws before her license is returned.

Randy D. Nichols, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Nichols, 521 S. Main St., was suspended from driving for 45 days on a complaint of creating excessive noise with a motor vehicle.

RFK Moves In On Ohio Demos

State Leaders Still LBJ Men

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York moved swiftly to corral Democratic presidential delegate votes today in the wake of President Johnson's announcement he would not seek reelection.

Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of the Ohio Democratic party, said Kennedy called him during the night to discuss the state's 115 convention votes, to be split among 128 delegates.

Most of the state's delegate candidates are pledged to Sen. Stephen M. Young as a "favorite son" who was expected to deliver the votes to Johnson.

"Ohio Democrats would be for Kennedy, at least at this point," O'Grady said.

The state party director said he has "no idea" about any move to draft Johnson for the race but said there would be a canvass of Ohio delegate candidates today and Tuesday.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he looks for an attempt to draft the President for another term.

"I feel there will be a loud clamor at the convention to draft President Johnson for another term," he said.

The President's announcement, he added, "is not good for the country."

O'Grady said the state party office was up to date on a canvass of the delegates candidates as of last Saturday.

"They were firm in sticking to Johnson," he said. "What their reaction will be at this point is hard to say."

Frazier Reams Jr., of Toledo, second choice "favorite son" among most of the state's Democratic delegate candidates, wouldn't speculate on who would get the Ohio votes.

"There are two announced candidates," Reams said. "Until the first ballot the field is open to anyone with the delegate strength to jump into the race."

Other party leaders looked on Johnson's announcement as boosting the stock of Kennedy and Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, both announced candidates for the Democratic Nomination.

Suit Is Settled As Jurors Wait

Parties to a $60,000 damage suit agreed to a private settlement Monday morning, bringing about a dismissal of prospective jurors called to hear the case in Common Pleas Court.

Mary L. Moore, Columbus, had filed the action last Nov. 27 against Ronald Alan Dunaway, of Milford, in connection with an Interstate 71 traffic accident in Fayette County in which the defendant's car struck from behind the one in which the plaintiff was riding.

Mrs. Moore charged Dunaway with negligence and asked funds to cover medical expenses resulting from injuries, and loss of earnings because of disability.

County Board Meets Tonight

The Fayette County Board of Education faces a comparatively light agenda for its first April meeting Monday at 8 p.m.

Items up for discussion include proposed extended pay for teachers who work beyond the regular classroom day, a report on grades at Miami Trace High School, the current tax situation in the Miami Trace district, the high school's driver education course for this summer and possible appointment of another board member to replace Board President Marion Waddle on the high school Athletic Council.

Burglars Take $20 In Coins

Burglars forced their way into a Washington C. H. service station overnight Sunday and stole approximately $20 in coins, city police said Monday morning.

Fred Ramey, manager of Hixon's Sunoco station, 1156 Columbus Ave. discovered the break-in when he opened the business at 6:30 a.m. Monday.

Ramey said the intruders pried open a door and ransacked the station office. Quarters and other change was taken from a cash box hidden in the office, he said.

Officers, who said the station was locked at 9:20 p.m. Sunday, estimated damage to the door at $40.

Youth Badly Hurt In Rural Crackup

A Greenfield youth was seriously injured and his companion suffered abrasions and bruises when their vehicle overturned on Stafford Road just south of Buena Vista Sunday afternoon.

A Washington C.H. man was charged with traffic law infractions in each of two separate mishaps in which he was involved with in a two-hour span the same afternoon.

In all, four persons were injured in four traffic accidents investigated in the city-county area over the weekend. Officers estimated total damage at more than $1,400 to seven vehicles.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies said Robert L. Hester, 18, was brought to Fayette Memorial Hospital where he was admitted with fractures of the left elbow and right kneecap, a lacerated left leg and multiple abrasions.

Karen Lightner, 16, of Leesburg, a passenger in his car, was treated in the hospital's emergency room and released.

Hester told officers that he attempted to pass another car while southbound at 5:30 p.m. and his vehicle ran off the left side of the road. It traveled 161 feet on the left berm, struck a culvert, flipped upside down — traveling 40 feet through the air — and landed on its top in the right ditch.

Deputies, who said they are continuing the investigation, described the 1960 model vehicle at a total loss.

CLAUDE BRUNER, 88, of 831 Washington Ave., was charged by city police with traffic law infractions twice Sunday afternoon after becoming involved in two separate mishaps.

The first one involved damage estimated at a total of $925 to two cars when they collided at 2:20 p.m. on Washington Avenue at McElwain St.

Police, who cited Bruner for making an improper turn, said he made a turn without signaling while a car driven by Gerald Wallace, 37, of Dayton, attempted to pass.

Wallace's car ran off the street, into the Burgett Riley yard at 904 Washington Ave., and struck a tree. Wallace suffered a bruised elbow and his car received damage figured at $800.

At 4:48 p.m. at the same intersection, police said Bruner pulled from McElwain Street onto Washington Avenue into the path of a 1967 motorcycle driven by Donald R. Penrod, 18, of 818 Leesburg Ave.

Penrod escaped unhurt when his cycle spilled in the street, but his passenger, Carolotta Graves, 18, of Sabina, suffered a skinned left knee. There was no contact between the car and the cycle, officers said. Bruner was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

In the only other mishap over the weekend, damage was estimated at $33 to a car and a van which collided at 9:20 a.m. Saturday in the 200 block of S. Main Street.

Asa W. Potts, 73, of 229 Henkle St., backed his car and struck a Dayton Power and Light Co. van operated by Lloyd J. Sowders, 59, of 923 S. Hinde St. No citation was issued.

War Action Slows Down On LBJ Order

SAIGON (AP) — American bombers and warships halted their attacks on most of North Vietnam today, one day after strikes close to Hanoi, Haiphong and the Chinese border.

The cutback in the bombing ordered by President Johnson was the 10th curtailment in the air war against the Communist North since it began on Feb. 7, 1965.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters said the reduction in the bombing was in effect by the time the President began his television statement announcing it, at 10 a.m. Saigon time.

The U.S. Command said American fighter-bombers confined their attacks on North Vietnam today to the area just above the demilitarized zone, hitting enemy storage complexes, truck convoys and gun positions.

Only a few hours before, the U.S. Command announced that American planes on Sunday attacked the Cat Bi airfield four miles southeast of the center of Haiphong, the radio communications station 10 miles southeast of Hanoi, a chemical plant 19 miles northeast of Haiphong, the Cam Pha coal area, 44 miles east-northeast of Haiphong, and the Lang Gai railway, 18 miles below the Chinese border.

It was learned that U.S. planes also will continue reconnaissance and aerial photographic missions all over North Vietnam, including the Red River Valley area from Hanoi to the Chinese border.

The President made no reference to the bombing of the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos, over which thousands of tons of war material and thousands of troops move into South Vietnam. Presumably, this air campaign will continue, with more warplanes available to strike the North Vietnamese supply routes and buildup areas in that country.

In ground fighting, Viet Cong forces broke through Marine and South Vietnamese defenses about 15 miles southeast of Hue Sunday and blasted two key bridges on the allies' main supply highway to South Vietnam's northern frontier.

Nine Viet Cong soldiers and 14 Marines were reported killed and 30 Marines wounded in a 40-minute exchange of machine-gun and mortar fire and grenades at the two bridges over the Truoi River. South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

About 14 miles northwest of Hue, infantrymen of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division moved in by helicopter and reported killing 30 Viet Cong soldiers after an air observer spotted an enemy force of 80 to 100 men.

It was the second straight day of sharp fighting across the northern frontier area. U.S. Marines, Army infantrymen and South Vietnamese troops reported killing 274 North Vietnamese in a series of engagements Saturday from Khe Sanh on the west to Gio Linh on the east.

WHS Musical Performance Wins Plaudits
Another near-capacity audience of about 900 applauded the second performance of "Finian's Rainbow" presented by the Washington High School Music Department Saturday night in the school auditorium.

At the conclusion of the final performance, the audience was so enthusiastic and persistent that three musical numbers were repeated as encores before the applause subsided.

After the costumes had been changed and the grease paint wiped off, everyone connected with the production — plus dates — went to the Country Club for the cast party.

The scenery, which created the illusions of "Rainbow Valley," was designed by Mrs. Nicholas Martello, the wife of the director. Miss Joyce Lee, of the WHS faculty, was the choreographer.

Children's Home Talks Scheduled

Any formal investigation of security measures at the Fayette County Children's Home won't come for at least another week — if at all — Laurence Dumford, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, said Monday.

"We are set up, and have been for about three weeks," he said, "for a meeting next Monday with the local Child Welfare Board and representatives of the Child Welfare Division of the State Welfare Department. We cannot say at this time what will come from that meeting, but it is certain nothing will be done before then."

Both Dumford and Commissioner Robert Fichthorn indicated last Thursday and Friday that some type of investigation is almost certain to come as a result of testimony during a juvenile court trial that disclosed reports of boys and girls meeting in one another's dormitories and other buildings after-hours, with such conditions existing over a period of years. They did not say to what extent it would go.

However, Dumford said Monday that "while we're not overlooking what has been brought to light — it is certain to have a bearing on our meeting next week — I'm not at all sure that 'investigation' is the word we want to use."

3 Face Hearing In Tennessee Store Break-In

JACKSBORO, Tenn. (AP)—Two young men and a teen-aged girl faced preliminary hearing in Sessions Court today on charges of breaking and entering a rural store near here.

Campbell County Sheriff George C. Smith said Richard Stout, 24, Covington, Ohio; Darrell Young, 18, Silver Hill, Ky., and Brenda Fowler, 15, Piqua, Ohio, were accused of breaking into a store in the Morley community March 3.

Smith said Mrs. Jerome Teague, wife of the store operator, shot Young during the break-in. He has recovered from a .38 caliber pistol bullet wound in the chest.

Young has been at liberty under $1,000 bond, but Stout and the Fowler girl were unable to post bail and have been held in jail.

Courts

JUVENILE COURT
Three Washington C. H. youths, two girls and a boy, were penalized as juvenile traffic offenders following appearances before Juvenile Judge Omar A. Schwartz Saturday.

Suspended from driving for 30 days were Mary C. Aills Cline, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Aills, 1218 Rawlings St., cited for failure to heed a red light, and Mary J. Coates, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coates, 301 Clearview Rd. Mrs. Cline was ordered to pay damages resulting from an accident in her case, and Mrs. Coates must pass an oral test on Ohio driving laws before her license is returned.

Randy D. Nichols, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Nichols, 521 S. Main St., was suspended from driving for 45 days on a complaint of creating excessive noise with a motor vehicle.

RFK Moves In On Ohio Demos

State Leaders Still LBJ Men

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York moved swiftly to corral Democratic presidential delegate votes today in the wake of President Johnson's announcement he would not seek reelection.

Eugene P. O'Grady, executive director of the Ohio Democratic party, said Kennedy called him during the night to discuss the state's 115 convention votes, to be split among 128 delegates.

Most of the state's delegate candidates are pledged to Sen. Stephen M. Young as a "favorite son" who was expected to deliver the votes to Johnson.

"Ohio Democrats would be for Kennedy, at least at this point," O'Grady said.

The state party director said he has "no idea" about any move to draft Johnson for the race but said there would be a canvass of Ohio delegate candidates today and Tuesday.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he looks for an attempt to draft the President for another term.

"I feel there will be a loud clamor at the convention to draft President Johnson for another term," he said.

The President's announcement, he added, "is not good for the country."

O'Grady said the state party office was up to date on a canvass of the delegates candidates as of last Saturday.

"They were firm in sticking to Johnson," he said. "What their reaction will be at this point is hard to say."

Frazier Reams Jr., of Toledo, second choice "favorite son" among most of the state's Democratic delegate candidates, wouldn't speculate on who would get the Ohio votes.

"There are two announced candidates," Reams said. "Until the first ballot the field is open to anyone with the delegate strength to jump into the race."

Other party leaders looked on Johnson's announcement as boosting the stock of Kennedy and Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, both announced candidates for the Democratic nomination.

Arabs, Israelis Clash Again

TELAVIV (AP) — Arab Commandos clashed with an Israeli army patrol in an occupied section of Syria, and another Arab gunman shot down two Israeli soldiers in occupied Jordan Sunday, the Israeli Army announced.

The Army said one Arab and one Israeli were killed and two Israeli soldiers wounded in the clash in Syria, the first reported trouble in several months on the Syrian-Israeli cease-fire line, which is patrolled by U.N. observers.
